

DAMAGE CAUSED TO GOLF COURSE

By Lisa O'Brien

VANDALS wreaked havoc at an historic golf club – tearing up the turf of two greens by driving over them, leaving behind a trail of destruction.

Staff at Beau Desert Golf Club, in Hazel Slade, arrived to find the 10th and 11th greens of their 18 hole championship course had been damaged by vehicles.

The picture here, which has been shared by a police officer on social media, show the extent of the vandalism.

An investigation has been launched by Staffordshire Police and anyone with information is being urged to come forward.

The 104-year-old club is situated a designated area of outstanding beauty off Rugeley Road, about five miles north of Cannock, and has been named in the Top 100 UK courses for nearly three decades.

Golfing greats like Sir Henry Cotton, Tony Jacklin, Sandy Lyle and Peter Alliss have all enjoyed its challenging holes.

Worry

Officials at the golf club did not want to comment but community leaders have condemned the incident. Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "I'm pretty disgusted about it all. We've had a spate of vandalism in the area. It's a bit of a worry."

Hednesford North Councillor Alan Pearson, who lives near the golf club, added: "It's a well known golf course. I hadn't heard about the vandalism but it's a crying shame and another cost for the club."

Police say the criminal damage is believed to have happened at some time between 6pm on Sunday and the early hours of Monday.

A police spokesman said: "We received a call just before 11am on Monday reporting criminal damage at Beau Desert Golf Club. It is believed that a vehicle has caused damage to two greens."

The club, originally called the Hednesford and District Golf Club, was formed in 1911 by a group of solicitors, estate agents and other businessmen who played on a course now occupied by Cannock and District Cricket Club.

It later moved across the road to a course designed for the Marquis of Anglesey.

When the First World War started, the marquis opened the course to local players, and in 1921 leased it to the Hednesford golfers, by then 193-strong, who renamed themselves the Beau Desert Golf Club.

Anyone with any information is asked to contact Staffordshire Police on 101 quoting incident number 232 of October 19.

COUNCILLOR IN PLEA TO STALL MARKET'S DECLINE

Cannock Chase Council, which runs Rugeley Indoor Market, has outlined a raft of measures to try and turn its fortunes around ALMOST half the stalls at Rugeley Indoor Market are empty – a huge drop in the past two years.

Out of 39 stalls, 23 are unoccupied, meaning that 41 per cent are being used. In 2013, about two thirds of stalls – 64 per cent – were taken up by traders.

However, it is a different picture in Cannock where 52 out of 61 stalls – 85 per cent – are currently occupied.

District councillor Ann Allt, who represents the Western Springs ward, has called for investment at Rugeley. She said: "I am Rugeley born and bred and when I was a child the market was heaving, it had a lot of good stalls.

"I think it could do with a revamp to attract more people to open stalls. It could do with a new floor, a lick of paint and generally just modernising."

Cannock Chase Council, which runs the Rugeley Indoor Market in Bees Lane, has outlined a raft of measures to try and turn the fortunes of the market around including increased advertising, working closer with the local traders and hosting fundraisers to bring in customers. Tony Griffiths, market manager at the council, said: "The vacancy rates for Rugeley market have declined for a number of reasons."

"One of our traders sadly passed away who had two stalls, and a trader with four stalls did so well that he moved into a shop in the town centre, and the rest we would class as natural wastage."

"Since January we have supported the traders with several fundraising events, which have again heightened the public profile of the markets. All of this has gained local publicity helping to attract market traders."

REPORT

Care home given inadequate rating

A BURNTWOOD care home has been rated inadequate for the third time in two years.

The Care Quality Commission said standards of care at Southwinds Care Home in Chase Road were not good enough. The home was seen as lacking in all key areas of safety, effectiveness, caring and responsiveness.

The CQC has issued an enforcement warning notice over the home's failure to assess, monitor and improve the service. Owner and manager Glenda Bundy called the findings 'ridiculous'.

FIGURES

Statistics reveal obesity levels up

OBESITY levels in Cannock Chase have rocketed above the national average, new figures show.

Some 30 per cent of adults across the district are classed as seriously overweight compared to 23 per cent of the general population in England.

In Staffordshire as a whole, obesity levels are two per cent higher than the national average, with Cannock Chase being the second worst across the county.

Councillor Muriel Davis, health leader on Cannock Chase Council, said she would be taking up the issue with cabinet colleagues.

Matt peaks in the Capital with run

Fundraiser – Matt Collyer

A RUGELEY dad ran up three of London’s tallest buildings to raise funds for research just months after being treated for skin cancer.

Matt Collyer lost two stone in four weeks after undergoing surgery and radiotherapy to remove a lump in his neck.

When his treatment ended in May this year the 40-year-old police officer decided to take on the London Three Peaks Challenge to get back to fitness and raise funds for Stand Up to Cancer.

A joint fundraising campaign from Cancer Research UK and Channel

4, Stand Up To Cancer aims to raise money to fund research which will get new and better treatments to cancer patients faster.

Matt, who is married to Louise and has three children, Daniel, aged eight, Erin, five and Niamh, two, was diagnosed with metastatic malignant melanoma in January this year.

“I noticed I had swollen glands last October but my son had just had tonsillitis so I thought it was just a virus,” said Matt. “I’d already had my tonsils out so when the swelling didn’t go down on one side I went to the doctors.”

Although the lump was painless, Matt was referred to Stafford Hospital for a biopsy.

“When they told me it was melanoma I just went numb,” said Matt. “I’ve always kept myself fit and I’ve never really had any ailments so my wife and I were both knocked for six.”

Surgery to remove the lump took place in March followed by five weeks of radiotherapy. The event involved running up the stairs of The Gherkin, Salesforce Tower and 200 Aldersgate before abseiling down the final tower in Aldersgate.

Retail park is sold in £7.5million deal

PROPERTY firm London Metric Property has completed the sale of Watling Retail Park in Cannock to an unnamed buyer for £7.5million.

The 25,000 sq ft site on A5 Watling Street was developed by LondonMetric in November 2012, and is fully let to DFS, Carpetright and Porcelanosa.

London Metric did not identify the buyer and referred to them only as a ‘large UK institution’.

It comes alongside another sale by the company, of a site in Enfield in London, for £24.5 million.

Chief executive Andrew Jones said: “We view the retail property sector opportunistically and will recycle assets which have delivered on their business plans.”

He added: “Both of these assets have generated very strong returns for us and we will continue to capitalise on the high demand from institutions for strong, well-let real estate.”

DFS opened at Watling Retail Park in December 2012.

Blow

The 17,000 sq ft shop cost £5.8million and created three new jobs while most of the staff transferred from a former store on the opposite side of the Longford roundabout at Linkway Retail Park.

That outlet closed last year in a blow to the site which also lost Focus DIY.

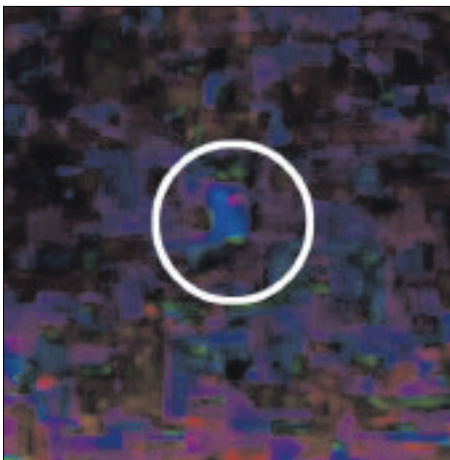

But it is has since welcomed major firms such as Dunelm, Poundland and an Iceland store to complement existing firms Halfords and well-known restaurants McDonalds and Pizza Hut.

In July this year, Premier Inn announced plans to expand its hotel which is based at another corner of the Longford Island. An application has been submitted to Cannock Chase District Council to build an extra 18 rooms on top of the 60 already provided.

But a month later Travelodge announced it had pulled out of its bid to build a 60-bed-room hotel further down Watling Street at Gallan Park following complications at the site.

However, bosses at the tourism firm confirmed they were still looking to develop in Cannock and were currently looking at alternative sites.

Ghost of a chance it’s ‘that girl’

Best evidence yet? This new footage has emerged in the search for the Black Eyed Child of Cannock Chase

Forest fright – a previous shot of what is claimed to be the Black Eyed Girl

IT is an eerie legend that has excited ghost enthusiasts for years, and now a team of hunters claim to have their best evidence yet of the Black Eyed Girl on Cannock Chase.

New footage apparently shows the little girl walking through the woods. It comes after speculation that a child, dressed in white and with hollow black eyes, haunts the beauty spot.

The spooky footage was taken by paranormal investigator Tom Buckmaster, aged 23, and appears to show a pale figure glowing in the darkness.

The ‘figure’ was caught on camera at about 7pm on October 10 after Mr Buckmaster spent six hours waiting for the ghostly apparition. He runs Haunted Finders with his father David Cranfield, 56, and brother John, 24, and between them they investigate reports of the paranormal.

Mr Buckmaster from Nottingham, says his team were chased by the creepy figure.

He said: “It looks like a child dressed in white – you can see the legs moving as it walks.”

“I didn’t even know I had captured the ghost until I went over the footage and thought ‘What the hell was that?’

Opportunity to gain skills in wildlife photography

THE Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) team is inviting photography and nature enthusiasts to a series of workshops.

The sessions, which will give participants expert tuition in how to photograph various landscapes from a fixed point, are also a chance for people to have their say on how the AONB is run.

This is the third year the AONB has organised the photography workshops, which are free, include a light lunch.

Emma Beaman, of Cannock Chase AONB, said: “The previous photography workshops were really popular, and we have got some brilliant images from across the AONB. The photos are really important as they help us to monitor these precious landscapes over time, so we’re keen to get even more people involved in the project. Everyone is welcome. All you need is a digital camera and a love of the great outdoors.”

The first-fixed point photography workshop is on November 19 from 10am to 1pm at Beadesert Park Farm.

Another will be held on December 17 from 10am to 1pm at the Museum of Cannock Chase. The remaining sessions will be on January 28 at Birches Valley and March 10 at the John O’Leary classroom, in Marquis Drive.

Places are limited and need to be booked. The course is free, although the AONB does ask for a voluntary donation. To reserve a place or to find out more, call Cannock Chase AONB on 01785 619186 or email emma.beaman@staffordshire.gov.uk

Shoppers are urged to vote for favourites

FOLLOWING the success of last year's competition, Amanda Milling, MP for Cannock Chase, has launched her 2015 Best Local Shops and Market Stalls competition.

She wants customers to tell her which are the best local independent shops and market stalls in Cannock, Rugeley and Hednesford. The competition, sponsored by FindaBiz-Rugeley, Best of Cannock and Ms Milling, runs until December 1.

The MP will announce the five winners on December 5 - Small Business Saturday.

Last year's winners in the shop category were three relative newcomers, Caffè Del Nino in Cannock, Sheepcraft Yarns in Hednesford and Pretty on the Inside in Rugeley.

The winning market stalls were two very well-established traders - The Chicken Stall in Cannock's indoor market and Meat to Please You in Rugeley market.

Ms Milling said: "Last year's competition was hugely successful.

"The winning positions were closely fought over, and this year will be no different.

"We have so many wonderful and unique independent retailers and market stalls here in Cannock Chase, and I would encourage people to support their favourites by voting in the competition."

Votes can be cast by visiting www.bestchaseretailer.co.uk or by using paper voting forms that are being distributed to local shops and market stalls in the district.

A SCHOOL saved from closure after it was bought by the parents of a pupil has reopened its doors.

The Stretton Lodge Day Nursery and Pre-school, formerly known as Vernon Lodge School, which takes in children up to the age of five, has opened following a refit costing almost £30,000. New owners Clare and Mark Wyatt are planning to host the official opening at the site in Stretton near Penkridge soon.

There are three full-time and two part-time teachers there.

The school had catered for pupils up to age 11 but closed suddenly on February 26 and parents were called to pick up their children. Mr Wyatt said: "It's going well. Some of the younger pupils have come back."

Campaign inspired by little Margot

Inspiration, toddler Margot Martini

A CAMPAIGN inspired by the life of toddler Margot Martini has been launched to boost the number of stem cell and bone marrow donors.

A host of famous faces, including Adrian Chiles, Catherine Tate and England's most-capped rugby player Jason Leonard are backing the Team Margot Foundation.

The charity was created in memory of Margot whose battle with a rare and aggressive form of leukaemia sparked a worldwide campaign to find more stem cell donors.

Margot, whose mum Vicki is from Essington, tragically lost her battle with blood cancer in 2014 and passed away aged just two years and two months old.

But her extraordinary legacy lives on and now a new International Stem Cell and Bone Marrow Awareness Day has been launched for October 7 every year - the anniversary of Margot's diagnosis, to encourage a further 2.2million people to sign the UK stem cell register in her memory.

Mr Leonard, who is president of the Rugby Football Union, said: "I was shocked to hear that less than three per cent of us give blood, especially as we never know when we might need it ourselves. To hear about what Team Margot are doing to raise awareness around the lack of stem cell donors, carries a similar message and one I'm very proud to support."

Alastair Campbell, former Tony Blair spin doctor, said: "Leukaemia killed my best friend and his daughter. Every person that signs up to the stem cell and bone marrow register increases the chance of saving more lives."

Details are on teammargot.com.

Scheme to privatise cancer care rejected

CANNOCK Chase Council has overwhelmingly opposed a £1.2 billion move to privatise cancer and end-of-life services in Staffordshire.

It accused health chiefs of 'sidelining' two petitions signed by thousands of Staffordshire residents.

A meeting of the full council voted against the proposal by Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) following a rallying call by council leader George Adamson.

The proposed contract is the biggest potential privatisation in NHS history with bidders going head-to-head for control of care for 800,000 people across Staffordshire and three million potential patients from neighbouring counties.

Negotiations between the CCG, which holds the purse strings locally for the NHS, and various bidders for the provision of cancer services have been under way for some months, with an announcement due before the end of the year.

The procurement process was held up following the withdrawal of University Hospitals of North Midlands NHS Trust from the winning consortium which also included The Royal Wolverhampton NHS Trust and private firm Inter-se Investments.

In May opponents handed a 64,000-name petition to the CCG demanding the proposals were axed following a rally in Hednesford. A year ago, the national campaign group Cancer Not For Profit presented a 12,000-strong petition to Staffordshire County Council.

Cancer Not For Profit say they will now use the Cannock motion, which was carried 38 to one, to bring other local councils around the country on board.

Gail Gregory, a retired head teacher from Gnosall, Stafford, and a leading light in the group, said: "For too long, programme leaders have said that they are supported by local councils in this experiment with our health care but we now see that is untrue.

"We want all councils in the affected area to say where they stand on this critical issue for Staffordshire's NHS.

"Unless we do something now, we shall lose control of this vital service for the next 10 years.

"Cannock Chase District Council say so, UHNM say so, and so do the 64,000 people who signed our petition.

"The question now is, will the CCG dismiss these concerns as they have all the others."

Parents rally to replace play gear

PARENTS who were left outraged after arsonists set fire to a children's play park in Staffordshire have clubbed together to replace the equipment.

The site at Cannock Sports Stadium, Pye Green Road was only opened in May but now it has been left charred and mangled after yobs set alight to it on October 3.

Scores of parents reacted with anger when pictures of the remains emerged on social media, so they have set up a Facebook group to keep people updated on the fundraising effort.

Robert Branson, aged 40, who took his four-year-old son Elliott to the park every day is one of the parents involved.

He said: "I was really angry when I saw what had happened.

"But I was more angry for my son who loves it and played on it every day. I am not sure how much we need but we just want to raise as much money as we can."

Mr Branson urged people to search for Cannock Stadium Play Area - Fun Day Discussion Group on Facebook.

£2m flood strategy to come under the spotlight

AN action plan to tackle flooding in Staffordshire has been unveiled.

A report, prepared for a county council cabinet meeting this week, includes the £2 million project for flood storage in Rugeley and work to solve reoccurring problems in Sandon Lane, Stafford.

The Rugeley project will include a 370-metre long embankment built along the Western Springs Road to safeguard homes and businesses.

Councillor Gill Heath, environment chief, said: "Flooding can have a devastating impact on our local communities and the economy.

"Our new plans will help us manage and minimise flood risk and will bring better co-ordination, planning and supporting people and business in understanding flooding risk and reducing it.

Drain

"Our aim is to give people better insight into preventing flood risk and alleviate problems by working with people or organisations that may be responsible," added Councillor Heath.

The Environment Agency has identified that the problems on Sandon Road were caused because water could not drain away quick enough when the Sandyfood Brook was high.

Mark Swain, from the EA, added: "We are aware of the flooding issues in the Sandon Road area of Stafford and we are discussing a number of solutions with both developers and the local authority to help reduce flood risk in the area."

Post office is to undergo revamp

A POST office in Rugeley will be revamped and its opening times increased by more than 30 hours a week from next month.

Armitage Post Office, New Road, will close on Friday for the refurbishment.

When it reopens at 1pm on November 9, services will be provided at an open-plan counter in the store, where the Post Office terminal will sit alongside the till.

Opening times will also increase by an extra 32 hours a week.

Post Office area manager Michael Brennan said: "We are making it easier for customers to get their cash, send and collect their mail and do their banking because we know how important these services are."

Church is going to host craft fair

A CRAFT fair will be held at St Peter's Church, Hedgesford, on Saturday from 10am until 1pm.

Joan honoured for hedgehog work

A rescued hedgehog with Joan Lockley

A CHESLYN HAY woman has been honoured with a special award from the International Fund for Animal Welfare (IFAW) for her dedication to rescuing thousands of hedgehogs.

Animal lover Joan Lockley, aged 71, saved her first hedgehog, which she nicknamed Spike, 15 years ago.

Known locally as 'our village hero' for her tireless efforts to rehabilitate sick, injured or orphaned hedgehogs across the Midlands, she set up West Midlands Hedgehog Rescue and has gone on to rescue more than 5,000 to date. The majority of the hoglets are cared for in the Hedgehog Hospirckal in her back garden, but when this is full, Joan will also nurse additional patients in her house.

Baby hedgehogs require regular two-hourly feeds of special milk from a syringe so it is almost a round-the-clock mission.

Threatened

Being the only official hedgehog carer in the Midlands, hedgehogs are brought to her from far and wide.

Philip Mansbridge, UK Director of IFAW, said: "Joan's dedication to hedgehog rescue is a great example of animal welfare in action. Her efforts to save and protect one of our much-loved, but often threatened, British mammals is an inspiration to others. She is a very deserving winner of IFAW's Hedgehog Rescue Award."

Joan said: "My work really began with Spike when he wandered into my garden underweight and hungry.

"I fed him but could tell something wasn't right. As I started asking other carers for advice and finding out more about hedgehogs and their needs I just fell in love with them."

Home campaigners post 8,000 letters in a day

CAMPAIGNERS fighting plans for 136 homes on prized green belt in Great Wyrley posted letters containing petitions through 8,000 doors in just one day.

The development has been earmarked for a site off Landywood Lane, but a petition against the plans already stands with more than 2,000 signatures.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson called a meeting at Landywood Primary School, in Great Wyrley, last Saturday. He addressed around 100 residents and pledged to continue fighting against the plans.

Villagers then helped to stuff 8,000 envelopes containing a letter from the MP and petition for householders in the area to sign before they headed out to post them through letter-boxes in Great Wyrley and Cheslyn Hay.

Householders have been asked to sign the petitions against the development proposed by KGL Holdings and send them back to the MP.

The register of names will be presented in the House of Commons in the next few weeks, as well as sent to South Staffordshire Council.

Mr Williamson said: "An overwhelming number of people do not want this development.

"That's why we had 100 people turn up to help and support the campaign and say no to the development.

"I hope that both the council and, if it goes to the planning inspectorate, will listen to local people."

Similar proposals for the same plot of land were rejected in 2013 after Mr Williamson got behind the protest.

Campaigner Jo Fisher, of Streets Lane, Cheslyn Hay, was one of the residents who helped to stuff and deliver the envelopes at the weekend. The 33-year-old said: "I think there was a really good turnout.

"People are more set on getting it kicked out this time because of how quickly these new proposals have been put in. I'm very pleased Gavin Williamson is on board."

South Staffordshire Council planning chiefs are expected to make a decision on the proposals in the near future.

IN MY VIEW

with Mark Andrews

Square is real retail therapy to help town

THERE hasn't been much in the way of cheer for our beleaguered town centres over the past few years, but at last there is something to shout about. The number of visitors to West Bromwich's New Square shopping centre has rocketed by 25 per cent over the past year, increasing from an already impressive 4.1 million in 2015 to 5.5 million in 2015.

The growth in visitor numbers to West Bromwich will inevitably mean a decline in shoppers somewhere else. However in these days where our high streets have been decimated by the shift towards on-line shopping and these ghastly out-of-town shopping centres, isn't it heartening to see people returning to a once struggling town centre?

Let nobody forget just how moribund West Bromwich was just five years ago. Row after row of empty shop units, take-aways and betting shops. And of course, the laughable Public arts complex.

Of course, there are still many empty and under-used buildings in West Bromwich, but it would be churlish to deny that this is now a town which has turned the corner after years in the doldrums.

And planners in neighbouring towns would do well to look at West Bromwich as a shining example of what can be done when the powers-that-be ask, listen to what both the public and business want, and bend over backwards to give it to them. Big, modern shop units rather than trendy highbrow arts projects, plentiful car parking right outside the shops rather than half-baked pedestrianisation schemes, and big-name retailers rather than pie-in-the-sky dreaming about heritage and tourism.

ONE question though. Since West Bromwich seems to now be doing reasonably well, whatever does Sandwell Council stand to be gained by lumping itself in with this ridiculous joint authority?

Already people are starting to refer to Birmingham and its "city region", before final approval has even been ratified. Councillors promise there will be no loss of identity, but many of them are the same people who 10 years ago were clinging to a ludicrous vision that by the year 2030 The Public would blaze a trail across the land for a renaissance based on the arts, and that Dudley would become a national standard-bearer for town-centre regeneration.

WITH the General Election out of the way, I think the pollsters at Yougov must be a bit short of work to keep them going. One of their latest studies reveals that Peroni is perceived as the most upmarket lager on the market, with Carling bumping along the bottom.

Upmarket? Lager? Might as well have carried out a survey to find the world's slimmest sumo wrestler.

ADAM BURLING gets to Chewie things over with the ultimate Star Wars fan

IT'S an exciting time to be a Star Wars fan.

As millions around the world eagerly await the December release of the seventh episode, The Force Awakens, there is a hunger for information – from major announcements down to the tiniest of tidbits.

Naturally, these days the first port of call for such juicy details is the internet, and one Burntwood man is recognised as a leading purveyor of all things in the news from that vast galaxy far, far away.

Mark Newbold, aged 44, is co-owner and content manager for one of the world's most dependable and popular Star Wars fan sites – www.jedinews.co.uk

Having successfully run his own website lightsabre.co.uk, Mark and Londoner James Burns joined forces just over five years ago to develop what has become Europe's number one Star Wars website.

Franchise

Jedi News covers all the latest developments from Disney Lucasfilm. Mark's knowledge of the franchise is respected by the fans and media alike, with numerous appearances on TV.

He is the go-to expert on all things Star Wars and has just filmed a documentary for Channel 5, to be screened later this year.

Mark's journey began on a cold wintry night at Cannock's ABC cinema in 1978.

"Most people associate Star Wars with 1977," says Mark, speaking from his home which resembles a museum, no scratch that, a shrine to the franchise.

"In reality, much of the UK didn't have the film on general release until early '78. But when we did get to see it, what an amazing experience.

Mark's collection is just out of this world

"It was only the third film I'd seen at the cinema – the first two being 101 Dalmatians and Benji – and, it's a bit of a cliché, but it changed my life. Soon I was reading Marvel Comics' Star Wars Weekly and saving my pocket money for the action figures."

Famously, Star Wars creator George Lucas amassed much of his fortune by retaining the merchandising rights for his space saga. Mark and many from his generation, and those that have followed, have gladly added to this fortune since the late 70s.

But, in doing so, some have unwittingly made their own fortune. Pristine examples of toys and merchandise from the original three movies, A New Hope, Empire Strikes Back and Return of the Jedi, fetch handsome prices.

"Earlier this year, a Boba Fett action figure from 1980 sold for £18,000 at auction. £18,000," Mark gasps. That three-and-a-half inch plastic figure was on toyshop shelves for £1.50 back in the day." Of course, back then no one suspected that the fantasy series would be the phenomenon it has become. If only we'd known."

Mark was born in Great Barr in 1971, moving to Burntwood with his family when he was young. Having attended Nether Stowe High School, Lichfield, Mark left aged 17 and went to work with his father at New Park Meats, but his interests were more Han based than ham.

"In the early 1980s I started writing fan fiction, making up my own stories based on characters from the film series," says Mark.

"I was always a big Han Solo – Harrison Ford – fan, but found it easier to write about Lando Calrissian – Billy Dee Williams – for some reason.

"Probably because Solo was frozen in my favourite Star Wars film, Empire Strikes Back, and at the time his character was quite literally on ice. I started writing for websites in 1995 before starting my own site, lightsabre.co.uk, in 1999. I merged with James' site in 2010 and we kept the name of his domain, Jedi News."

Mark's involvement with the franchise includes not just Jedi News. There is his work for the magazine Star Wars Insider; words of wisdom in the publication that accompanies Build The Millennium Falcon; a regular blog for the Metro and contributions to starwars.com – the official movie website. And then there's Radio 1338, a show he hosts with James.

"It's always been busy but things are going bonkers right now, what with the soon to be released film," he enthuses.

Indeed, Disney – who bought Lucasfilm from George Lucas in 2012 – has big plans for the saga. Six films are already known to be in production. I was at the Star Wars Celebration event in Anaheim, California, earlier this year," says Mark.

Incredible

"What an incredible experience to be in that room when the cast was brought out on stage." The cast Mark refers to brings together all the favourite characters from the original trilogy.

"How do you put into words seeing your childhood heroes back together. Surreal.

"More bizarre than that was the reaction to the second teaser trailer to Star Wars Episode 7.

"That two-minute clip of what is to come, culminating in Han Solo uttering 'Chewie, we're home' was so moving. I said at the time I had never been in a room before where 5,000 grown men were crying unashamed tears of joy." And what else can Mark tell us about the latest film? "Let's just say the next trailer for the movie will have another 'we're home' moment," he laughs.

He added: "I have just got back from New York Comic Con and hopefully the new trailer will get its first airing in the next week or so."

Visit www.jedinews.co.uk for daily updates on all things Star Wars. The Force Awakens is in cinemas from December 17.

Big rise in sex offences as crime up 5pc in year

Briggs big boost to charity

Lucy Leeming, Regional Fundraising Manager at Make-A-Wish UK, receives the cheque from Briggs Equipment's Chief Financial Officer, Peter Jones.

A COMPANY in Cannock is donating £20,000 to a charity which helps to make seriously ill children's dreams come true. Briggs Equipment, Orbital Way is donating the cash to Make-A-Wish UK.

Set up in 1986 the charity aims to grant a thousand magical wishes each year to children and people aged between three and 17.

It receives no government funding and relies on donations from the public and corporate sponsors to raise the £7 million a year it takes to grant magical wishes.

Christine Allingham, corporate account manager at Make-A-Wish UK, said: "Our aim is to enrich the lives of children and teenagers who are battling serious illnesses by giving them something to look forward to, along with welcome respite from the routine of hospitals and treatments."

"We're very grateful to Briggs Equipment for such a fantastic donation, which will make a real difference."

A child may dream of being a fireman or a zookeeper for the day or to meet their hero sports personality or favourite singer.

CRIME across the West Midlands region has risen by five per cent over the last year, new figures show.

Staffordshire, the West Midlands, West Mercia and Warwickshire saw 334,089 crimes recorded in the year to June 2015, according to the Government's latest statistics. The figures show a steep rise in sexual offences and violent crimes, while recorded instances of both robbery and burglary fell from last year.

Across the region, offences of violence against a person rose by 22 per cent to 79,095. Sexual offences saw a huge increase of 36 per cent to 9,044. There were 66 murders over the year, representing an increase of 22 per cent on 2013-14.

Jack Dorney MP, Shadow Policing Minister, said: "To make matters worse, Staffordshire police force has lost 447 police officers in the past five years with many more set to go."

Changing

"The Tories are failing to recognise the true picture of crime in the UK," he said.

West Midlands Police saw an overall increase of two per cent with 177,831 recorded crimes, although robbery offences dropped by seven per cent to 4,828 while burglary also fell by six per cent to 22,150.

David Jamieson, West Midlands Police and Crime Commissioner, said the figures proved that crime was 'changing and not falling' and added that proposed further cuts to police budgets were 'irresponsible'.

Across England and Wales, crime rose by five per cent, with 3,660,550 crimes recorded in the year to June 2015.

The figures include all crimes recorded over the period, excluding fraud, which is recorded separately by the Government's Action Fraud unit.

Over the period, almost 600,000 fraud offences were referred to the National Fraud Intelligence Bureau – a nine per cent rise.

Divide and rule policy

H GREENWAY raises interesting questions about the electability of Labour ("Politics of greed is a threat to the planet", October 1). They have won only three elections in nearly 40 years. The Tories were able to form a majority with only 24 per cent of the electorate voting for them.

Divide and rule has always been the Tory plan.

Labour has refused to provide alternative policies in the hope that it could appease the Tory press.

HOW generous of KGL Holdings to renovate historic buildings in Penkridge.

Friends have given area new lease of life

FIVE years ago the Mount was covered with broken glass, the hill area was covered with litter, a lot of the paths were overgrown, it was not a pleasant area to walk. That was before the Friends Of Etching Hill were formed.

Over the last four and a half years the group have organised community litter picks and done path clearance work, with permission from the trustees. The area is now well used by walkers, and children once again play there. There are extra litter bins and information boards that say Welcome to Etching Hill.

In addition we have meetings for everyone, not just members, with guest speakers who give talks on wildlife and the environment, these are free of charge. We would welcome more members and support, many thousands live around the area, this is about 'Love where you live'. You can find us on Facebook also we have a website www.etchinghill.co.uk

Perhaps you have memories or photos you would like to share with us?

Our last meeting for this year is at Etching Hill Church Hall, Mount Road, on October 29 at 7.30pm. We look forward to seeing you.

GEOFF BROOKES, CHAIRMAN
Friends Of Etching Hill

Claim was unjustified

RE the letter from Steve Gavrilovic ("Voters will reject route, October 8").

Mr Gavrilovic was a member of the Labour Party until he resigned because he was opposed to its move towards the left. His claim that I live in an Alice in Wonderland socialist utopia is personal and unjustified. He writes it because he thinks he can get away with it without stating why he believes such policies as opposing austerity, inequality and welfare cuts will not work.

Councillor Paul Witton
Cannock South

Cap private rents to lower welfare costs

I AM not a socialist nor a member of the Labour Party, but I must take issue with Councillor Snape's poorly informed letter on the welfare cap, and the supposed 'living standards' that uncapped welfare provides those on benefits ("Different views on singing our anthem", October 8).

The overwhelming majority of those who previously claimed more than the welfare cap did so because governments of both colours let house prices run rampant, with devastating consequences for those forced to live in the private rental sector. Rather than capping benefits, if we capped private rents, we would significantly lower the welfare bill. Ironically for Councillor Snape, the only person proposing this sensible approach is Mr Corbyn.

STEVE PARKER
Cannock

Big mistake not to join the authority

AT a special full council meeting the Conservative-controlled South Staffs Council rejected an opportunity to join the proposed West Midlands Combined Authority.

I believe the controlling group have made a big mistake and done a disservice to the residents of the district.

The council's border stretches alongside the western edge of the Black Country and is an integral part of the West Midlands where many of our residents work, enjoy leisure and pleasure facilities. Why shouldn't our elected representatives have a say in how the major issues will undoubtedly affect our green and pleasant district?

The recent development of the i54 site providing significant employment which was achieved with the co-operation of South Staffs Council, Staffordshire County Council and Wolverhampton City Council is a brilliant example of local authority co-operation. Why have South Staffs leaders not proposed we join the combined authority albeit on the fringes? I have concluded it can only be political.

We've no industrial base

THERE have been dire warnings that if Corbyn is elected as Prime Minister, the country will be plunged into the dark days of the 1970s and 1980s - industrial unrest, the three-day week, striking miners.

What? We had a coal industry then? We actually manufactured stuff? What was Thatcher's reaction to this unrest? It was to annihilate the industrial base of the country.

What a triumph for capitalism. We now have a country with no industrial base.

They seemed to find any criticism against them highly amusing. The European Union has become more like a dictatorship. Time to get away from this circus and rule ourselves.

Family distraught as barn owls snatched

A FAMILY has been left devastated after thieves stole two barn owls from their home in Cannock.

Barney and Elsa were taken from the home of Tracey and Stuart Clenton Smith home in New Street, Bridgtown, in what police believe was a targeted theft last Wednesday (October 14).

The couple discovered the hand reared birds had been stolen when Mr Smith went to feed them in the garden. He found their cages empty and called the police.

The distraught couple are appealing for their beloved pets' safe return.

The couple fear the birds will have their identity rings cut off.

He said: "We just hope whoever has them is looking after them well as they have been hand-reared since they were four weeks old and would not survive the wild."

Handler

"They are very tame, Barney is protective of Elsa. The owls both have rings which can be traced back to us and we have all the paperwork."

Mr Smith has reared birds of prey since the age of 11 and is an experienced handler. The family got Barney four years ago and Elsa just six months ago.

The couple have children Maisie, aged four and Harry, six.

Mrs Clenton Smith said: "Maisie holds the owls in the home and often pets them talks to them kisses them she always tells her teacher and class friends about them."

"Harry named Barney. They are their feathered friends. They are not worth a great value but they are sentimental value to us and the children."

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Maisie, aged four, with barn owl Barney, who was stolen in Bridgtown

Council to take in refugees

CANNOCK Chase Council has begun the search for homes after declaring it will take in 10 Syrian refugees.

The authority has contacted private sector landlords over possible accommodation for the immigrants.

The council agreed to take in the refugees from the war-torn country following a Home Office call to local authorities to help relocate those affected.

Council chiefs said it was not clear whether their offer made would be accepted and, if so, when refugees were likely to arrive.

The council has specifying a preference for families rather than single people.

Some negative comments about the move have been made on the council's Twitter feed but very few, said a spokesman.

Council leader George Adamson said: "We are in discussions to ensure that costs are met by national government rather than local councils."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Bowled over by a night of skittles

Hayes Green WI

THERE were quite a few apologies at the October meeting with some members still on holiday, while others were unwell.

President Sandy Hobbs opened the meeting with the singing of Jerusalem.

Minutes were read and the treasurer's report given. Discussion on the of skittles night and meal held at the Hen House Hedgesford. Everyone agreed what a splendid evening it was. It got quite competitive at times with Trevor Bevan MC having to take order, to no avail.

Sandy told the members she had a brilliant afternoon attending the afternoon tea at Stafford Council Offices in celebrations of 100 years of the WI. She was invited by the chairman of Staffordshire County Council. Sixty seven ladies attended from around the county.

The speaker for the afternoon was the curator of Tutbury Castle Lesley Smith, who portrays so many characters – on this occasion she was Elizabeth 1. She was splendid.

This month the club's social evening comprised the annual auction.

The auctioneer was Dianne Bevan and the porter was Suzie King and £140 was made for the WI fund.

Forthcoming events include a visit to Chatsworth House, festive meal and Christmas party – a 50s buffet theme with an entertainer.

At the next meeting on Wednesday November 4, the speaker is Ian Rogerson with 'Turkey Talk'.

Speaker fills the hall with humorous tales

PRESIDENT Lynne Tuckley, SI Cannock, welcomed everyone to the October meeting when members enjoyed a fun evening with East Staffordshire speaker Pat Hall who entertained with her talk called 'Isn't Life Funny'.

She interspersed funny tales and anecdotes from various speaking engagements with her own hilarious poems and had the audience in fits of laughter throughout.

The International Evening this week had an Antipodean theme, with well known speaker Dianne Mannering talking about the early settlers in Australia who petitioned the British Government to 'Send Us Some Women'.

SI Cannock & District

Special guest was Carol Bailey, Region President of SI Midland Chase and a member of SI Wolverhampton – her last official engagement of the year as she relinquishes her role as Region President at the SI Great Britain and Ireland (SIGBI) conference to be held in Glasgow in November.

Funds raised from a raffle at the International Evening will be donated to the SI Emergency Fund.

More information about SI Cannock & District is available on www.sigbi.org/cannock-and-district or on Facebook.

History of St John Ambulance

FOLLOWING the business section of the September meeting the door was opened to a side room, where a table was laden with cakes; golden balloons were floating above them.

These were provided by Margaret, one of the two members presented with garden vouchers to celebrate their golden wedding.

Cheslyn Hay TG

The president welcomed the speaker Carol Trigg the district training officer for St John Ambulance Brigade, accompanied by her guide dog.

Carol outlined the history of the brigade from 1070 when it was started by the monks to care for sick and injured regardless of their colour or status, up to the present day. It is now a massive organisation with 44,000 members.

The walking group held sponsored walk around Walsall Arboretum for Blood Bikes and Cannock Hospital occupational therapy department.

Hot water was tipped on brother during row

A BROTHER who tipped a kettle of boiling water over his younger sibling has been spared an immediate stint behind bars.

Joe Kuczmyjiw attacked his 19-year-old brother Tom during an argument at the family home. Joe Kuczmyjiw, 21, took the kettle from the kitchen and doused his brother's upper body.

Paramedics were called to the house in Rugeley and treated the victim for scalds to his cheek, shoulders and chest.

He was given pain relief and taken to hospital, where he was told his injuries will heal, with doctors describing them as similar to a bad case of sunburn. Miss Fiona Cortese, prosecuting, told Stafford Crown Court.

Costs

Joe Kuczmyjiw, formerly of Marchbanks, Rugeley, admitted assault causing actual bodily harm.

He was sentenced to 20 weeks' jail suspended for 18 months, given a four-month curfew and ordered to pay £250 costs.

Judge Paul Glenn told the defendant: "The victim of this case was your younger brother, who has chosen not to support the prosecution.

"The offence came to light when emergency services attended what was then your home address. They found your brother in pain with significant burns.

By Simon Stone

"There was no justification for what you did - you took out your bad temper on your brother, there is little doubt it happened because you were drunk.

"You are fortunate your brother has taken the attitude he has, because I know he has forgiven you."

Miss Cortese said the incident happened on June 13. The defendant came back to the property afterwards and was arrested by the police.

Mr Neil Gerrity, defending, said: "He is clearly sorry for what he did, something which happened on the spur of the moment and he pleaded guilty at the earliest opportunity.

"He was clearly remorseful and tried to apologise to his brother at the scene."

Vets applauded for work with fat pets

Nurse Amy Duncalf at the weight clinic with Alfie and his owners William and Rebecca Day

A VETERINARY practice in Great Wyrley has received national recognition for its work to help overweight pets.

387 Veterinary Centre began a training and coaching programme with animal nutritionists at the start of the summer to help pet owners.

It has become only the seventh Approved Weight Management Centre of Excellence in the UK.

Staff have been running clinics including nutrition and feeding advice, personalised feeding and exercise plans, weight checks, progress charts, and demonstrations of different feeding methods.

Senior vet Hamish Duncan said: "Obesity can lead to serious health problems like diabetes, heart and kidney disease and certain cancers. Not to mention restricting mobility, increasing lethargy and generally reducing pets' quality of life.

"Our accreditation means all owners are getting best advice on nutrition and weight management at puppy and kitten age and every important milestone thereafter to help pets stay in great condition."

£320,000 project to improve centre ends

A £320,000 heritage project to restore six historic shop buildings in Rugeley town centre is finished.

The programme was launched three years ago to help breathe new life into the town and attract investment.

High-quality external repairs have been funded by Historic England, which led the project, Staffordshire County Council and Cannock Chase Council.

Under the scheme, grants of up to 50 per cent were made available to the owners of the buildings towards repairs and 65 per cent towards architectural reinstatement. The £320,000 total figure was matched through private investment.

The scheme saw buildings reroofed, repointed and windows either repaired or replaced. Shops in Anson Street, Market Street, Market Square, Brook Square and Lower Brook Street have all been restored.

The Lower Brook Street building underwent significant structural works and had a new shop front fitted.

In addition to the repair work, the project also funded feasibility studies into restoring two more local landmarks – Heron Court and the Canal Warehouse in Mill Lane. It is hoped private investors will carry out the similar restoration work to these buildings in the future.

The scheme forms part of the wider regeneration of Rugeley which has seen the county council's improvements at Horsefair and town centre improvements which followed the Tesco development. Rugeley will also see a new flood defence barrier built along Western Springs Road, unlocking the potential for new investment and development in the town which is at risk of flooding. This forms part of the Local Growth Fund programme through the Stoke-on-Trent and Staffordshire Enterprise Partnership. Other town centre transport improvements are also planned. Staffordshire County Council's economy leader Mark Winnington said: "It has been rewarding to see these buildings sympathetically restored, ready for business and improving the look of the town centre."

Councillor Gordon Alcott, Cannock Chase Council's economic development leader said the project had enhanced Rugeley's unique character and appearance by safeguarding the long-term future of the buildings.

Louisa Moore, of Historic England, said: "Conservation areas like Rugeley are proof that heritage is all around us."

Venture is about the individual

Customers are offered the best possible quality products

Mathew and Kelly have transformed their premises into the perfect space to display their products

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

PERSONALISED Nation is a new local business based in Burntwood specialising in bespoke personalised print, gifts and interior decoration.

Director Mathew Nation has more than 20 years experience in the design and print industry. He and his wife Kelly made the decision to open their own business together earlier this year.

Personalised items are becoming increasingly popular and the decision to venture into this field was made by the couple to allow them to build a family business that was based locally and to allow them to achieve a happy work and home life balance by spending more time with their four young children.

To celebrate the launch of Personalised Nation they are holding a grand opening day on October 31.

Mathew and Kelly have been transforming their premises into the perfect space to display their vast range of products and house the state of the art machinery purchased to offer their customers the best possible quality products.

A key focus of the company is eco friendly products and processes. With this at the forefront of every decision the couple have made, they have ensured that their products are widely recyclable allowing any waste to be disposed of in the most environmentally friendly way.

They use eco friendly inks in all of their products and this is imperative when producing the personalised wallpaper as the process they use produces no odour and doesn't omit any chemicals from the print, and therefore is safe for use in the home and in particular in children's playrooms and bedrooms.

They want the company to have a family influence, as this has been their main motivation for setting up in business. They have even had their children help design wallpaper for the premises using the latest wallpaper design software.

Personalised items are becoming increasingly popular

This allows them to choose their favourite image and simulate the reception area on the screen. The children have also been the decision makers behind the items that will be given away at the open day.

Quality, innovation and individuality are the main focus of the company. Already orders have been received from customers who have seen what will be available via the Personalised Nation Facebook and Twitter page.

The most popular items so far have been canvas and acrylic prints, wallpaper and roller blinds. Other products offered will be placemats and coasters, mugs and baby clothing, acrylic desk displays, glass chopping boards and mouse mats plus many others.

These items can be printed with an image provided by the customer or one from a vast catalogue available to Personalised Nation.

The website www.personalised-nation.co.uk will be launched on October 31 in line with the grand opening. This will allow customers to create a visual of their finished product and place the order online. Items can be ordered via the website or in house and shipping will be offered nationwide.

Tamra takes biscuit with her baked hoard

ITS fame has spread far and wide – now a Staffordshire Hoard-inspired baking competition has been won by an archaeologist and cookery fan from America.

Dr Tamra Walter's intricately-piped gingerbread biscuits in the design of some of the Hoard's most famous pieces, including a cross, seahorse and sword hilt, wowed judges of the contest.

Now she wants to visit the Midlands and see the glittering Anglo Saxon haul for herself.

The 45-year-old mother-of-two baked the biscuits at her home in Texas and emailed photographs of her endeavours to the competition organisers, the conservation team at Birmingham Museum, which houses part of the 3,500-piece collection.

She said: "I was so excited and honoured to learn I had won. The piping was definitely the most difficult part. "You realise while doing it just how incredibly detailed these pieces are and the amount of labour that went into them. The collection is absolutely amazing and the pieces are beautiful. "A friend sent me a link about the competition and I was thrilled at being able to combine my love of archaeology with my passion for baking.

"My academic job can be quite demanding at times so baking for me is an escape from the more mundane aspects of academia."

This is the third year of the competition - and the first time it has been won by someone from outside the UK.

Tamra, an associate professor of archaeology at Texas University, said: "The judges had to trust me that my entry was edible but since then my daughter has already eaten part of the seahorse biscuit when I wasn't looking."

She first saw the Staffordshire Hoard – gold and silver jewellery and weaponry found in a field at Hammerwich, near Lichfield, in 2009 – in National Geographic magazine.

Search on to find the families of war heroes

LANCE Corporal AC John Vayro survived a hard-fought battle against the advancing German army – but was killed in fighting after the D-Day landings.

Trooper Frederick Brawn died after an ambush in Holland, while Daniel Wright was shot down by the Canadian Air Force by mistake returning from a bombing raid in Berlin.

All three are among the war heroes from Chasetown commemorated in the area's war memorial. Now, Burntwood Town Council plans to dedicate 20 road names at the new 351-home housing estate at Milestone Way to the servicemen.

And an appeal has been launched by the community leaders to trace the families of six heroes.

There are 22 names on the memorial, but because three of them share the surname Wright all of them can be included in the project.

So far 16 families have come forward to give their blessing to the scheme and now those of the remaining six are needed for the long-lasting tribute to become a reality.

Among them is Lance Corporal A.C. Vayro, who was born in Sussex and joined the army aged 18 in 1938.

He was transferred to the 1/6 Battalion and sent to France in 1940 as part of the British Expeditionary Force to help repel German attacks in the early part of the war.

Out of 671 troops and officers he was one of 275 to be evacuated later that year while the rest were killed.

He moved to Burton-upon-Trent where he met Amy Holdcroft, his future wife, in 1941.

After the birth of their son the couple moved to Chasetown.

After the battle of Normandy was won the 2nd Battalion endured a four-month long campaign to cross the River Maas into Germany which they reached by January 1945.

It was there, near the town of Goch, where LC Vayro was fatally wounded during a German counter-attack. He died at a field hospital in Holland the following day.

One of the three Wrights on the memorial is hero Daniel Wright who lied about his age to join the Air Force where he became a gunner.

He was just 19 when, returning from a bombing raid in Berlin, was shot down by the Canadian Air Force who mistook his plane for the enemy.

While Chasetown-born Trooper Frederick Brawn, of the 1st Airlanding Squadron, was among a 30-strong patrol of jeeps from C Troop which got ambushed between Wolfheze and Ginkel Heath in Holland.

Aged 21, he was either one of five men who were killed as the Jeeps tried to escape or the others who were captured and later killed.

Only eight soldiers escaped after the patrol was left with no choice but to speed through enemy positions facing fire on all sides.

Lichfield District Council has backed the project and called the remaining families to come forward.

The six soldiers are William Follows, Kenneth James, Samuel Brazier, Charles Pooler, J Derek Wright and John Wright. Contact on 01543 308131.

Banned driver in court

A ROMANIAN national has been charged with driving offences after being stopped by police on the M6 in Staffordshire.

A Citroën Xsara Picasso was pulled over by officers on the southbound carriageway of the motorway at junction 13, near Stafford.

Marian Bacila, aged 53, of Byrne Road, Wolverhampton, is charged with driving while disqualified and without insurance and using a vehicle without a valid MoT. He is due to appear at Cannock Magistrates Court on November 4.

Former MP admits he was quizzed on sex ring

A FORMER MP has confirmed he was questioned by police investigating claims he was part of a paedophile ring that sexually abused a young girl on Cannock Chase.

The 55-year-old denied the allegation during the three-hour interview, later calling the inquiry a political 'witch-hunt'.

Esther Baker, now 32, waived her right to anonymity earlier this year to make a series of allegations about repeated assaults at the Staffordshire beauty spot in the 1980s and 90s, which she claims may have also involved a Lord and a judge, while uniformed police officers stood guard.

She said she was pleased one of her alleged attackers had finally been quizzed by detectives, and dismissed his claims of innocence.

The ex-MP was interviewed under caution by Staffordshire Police which is investigating the allegations. Speaking on condition of anonymity, he claimed his interview followed a public campaign by Labour MPs for police action over Ms Baker's claims, which he described as containing 'not a shred of truth.'

He has also vowed to pursue a charge of perverting the course of justice against her. She called his comments 'vicious.'

He said: "My children are the victim of this latest witch-hunt by Labour MPs who have no concern about the effects of their campaign on real people."

"I am not critical of the police. The police have got to investigate. They are put in a very difficult situation."

"The issue is public campaigning when what we have are unproven allegations. Two Labour MPs have been campaigning to get a prosecution while the police are investigating.

"It is an attempt to pervert the course of justice. They don't stop to think that what they are campaigning about might not be true."

Ms Baker, a cashier who moved to Liverpool to start a new life, decided to speak out in May about her experiences in the hope of finding other victims or the police officers who were involved.

She said: "I'm glad the police have spoken to him and I'm not surprised by what he has said. I didn't expect him to hold his hands up and say 'Fair enough, I did it.'"

A Staffordshire Police spokesman said, on Monday October 12, a 55-year-old male was not arrested but was questioned under caution.

MP hits out at frontline cuts in fire service

CANNOCK Chase MP Amanda Milling has criticised Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Authority for cutting frontline provision while refusing to consider making savings in 'back office' functions instead.

She raised the issue in Parliament with Mike Penning, the Minister for Policing, Crime and Criminal Justice.

"I was incredibly disappointed when Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Authority ignored calls for consideration to be given to merging back office functions with Staffordshire Police, instead ploughing on with cuts in frontline services which have resulted in fire engines being removed from both Cannock and Rugeley," Ms Milling said.

"I firmly believe that these cuts to our local frontline fire service provision could have been avoided if Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Authority had engaged in talks with Staffordshire Police about sharing services and resources."

Mr Penning said the Government is seeing this form of greater integration elsewhere in the country and he was unsure as to why Staffordshire is not doing the same, describing emergency services working together as 'common sense'.

Clean up to put Shugborough to bed

Jackie Moseley giving Nessus the Centaur, which sits in the entrance hall at Shugborough, a detailed clean

IN a library holding more than 3,500 books, checking every single page for damage, is a meticulous task at a Staffordshire country estate.

But staff and volunteers at Shugborough Hall are up to the task as they put the house to bed for the winter in a clean-up operation that will take five months.

Specialist conservation cleaners will spend three days painstakingly cleaning the mansion's 300 year old chandelier, while other cleaners will gently brush away the dust from collectables and artefacts.

The attraction shuts to the public tomorrow (Friday) and will reopen mid March next year. Corinne Caddy, deputy manager of the estate said: "Every year our winter clean is a massive job. We pack a lot of our artifacts into storage.

"We have 3,500 books that need to be checked page by page for bookworms, and over the season a lot of dust gathers in the ornate plasterwork on the ceilings and in our sculptures."

Just three specially trained staff will take on the cleaning task, which will last until March.

She added: "Everything is cleaned with cotton wool buds, distilled water, small, delicate brushes and a low suction vacuum cleaner.

"Specialist items and clock work is carried out by a clock maker and conservation officer."

Tickets are £15 per adult on the day and £12.50 in advance.

The historic estate is still open for special events over the next few months including half-term activities, a Halloween Spooktacular on October 31 and a fireworks display on November 7.

There will also be a series of Christmas events in December. Visit www.shugborough.org.uk

Medic hits out as yobs hurl fireworks

Advanced Paramedic: Karl Lavender, aged 33 from Penkridge, at his base at Fallings Park Fire Station

A PARAMEDIC has hit out at yobs who threw fireworks at his vehicle as he raced to an emergency call.

Karl Lavender, of Penkridge, was responding to a 999 medical emergency in Fordhouses when his rapid response vehicle was hit by fireworks. He was travelling along the Stafford Road near McDonald's just before 9.30pm last Tuesday. He had to stop to put a small fire caused by the fireworks with an extinguisher.

As the culprits ran off towards the canal, they continued to throw fireworks behind them at his response car.

Mr Lavender, who is based at the Fallings Park station, said he had been assaulted on the job before, but this was the first time in his 12-year career he has had missiles thrown at his vehicle.

He said: "I didn't have a clue what was happening. It was just bangs and colourful sparks everywhere.

Angry

"I didn't know what to think at first, it was a bit of a shock."

While the fire didn't cause much damage to the vehicle, it did mean he was out of action for more than an hour, and another unit had to be sent to the emergency call. Mr Lavender said: "I was just angry I couldn't go on to a medical emergency. Somebody needed an ambulance and I couldn't respond because people had done that."

"What would they think if it was their family the ambulance was going to?"

Just a day later an ambulance crew had eggs thrown at them and were forced to lock themselves in their cab whilst on duty in Birmingham.

An egg was thrown through the window of the stationary ambulance in Northfield by yobs in a car alongside them.

Fun for you... scary for pets

Find out how to help your pet cope with the firework season

During the Firework Displays

- Always keep cats and dogs inside the house when fireworks are being let off. Do not take your dog to a fireworks display!
- Pull the curtains and switch on the TV or radio to dull the noise from the fireworks
- Try not to leave your pets by themselves while fireworks are going off. Pets will be more relaxed when they have familiar faces around
- Don't force your pets to come to you, especially if they are in their hiding place or den
- Don't react to the fireworks yourself
- Play with a toy and see if your pet wants to join in, but don't force them
- Ignore unusual behaviour, such as panting, shaking or whining, unless they come to you first for reassurance. Give them affection, but no more than usual. Pets often pick up on their owner's worry and overcompensating could make things worse
- Provide distractions, for example new toys or treats
- DO NOT punish or get angry with your pet! This will only make them more uneasy

Help your pet to survive the bangs

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

THE fireworks season is just about to start – a time that many pet owners dread.

From October through to the new year, fireworks will be going off. Although great to watch, the fireworks season is a very stressful and frightening time for many of our pets.

Your pet's distress, caused by the flashes and bangs, may present itself in various ways. Things like shivering, restlessness, chewing, vomiting and hiding are common.

Fear of fireworks and loud noises can be addressed from an early age.

Puppies should be exposed to loud noises from birth as part of their socialisation period.

Simple

Training, however, can be difficult to enforce in dogs that have already learnt to be scared of loud noises.

There are some simple things that you can do to help your pet.

- Keep cats indoors.
- Move cats and dogs to a blacked-out room in the evening where there are toys. The darkened room helps reduce problems from lights flashing.
- Try to engage your dog in an active game, and using some background music will help to distract him.
- Try to ignore fearful behaviour and do not reassure your dog as this will reinforce your dog's fearful behaviour.
- Speak to your vet about the Royal Canin 'Calm' diet for your cat or dog. Your vet will be able to advise you if this would be suitable for your pet during the fireworks season.

Registered Veterinary Nurse Rebecca Hodson from Melbourne Vets

• Make sure outdoor rabbits/guinea pigs are covered over at night to help block out flashing lights and make them feel more secure.

• Make sure that horses are either put in their stables or make sure that fencing is secure around their field.

There is another aid to help dogs in the form of a plug-in device, very similar to the plug-in air fresheners.

When plugged in, the device warms up and gives off a dog appealing pheromone (Adaptil). This is the same pheromone as that produced by a bitch after whelping which helps to reassure her puppies.

The Adaptil has no sedative effect and cannot be detected by humans. A similar diffuser – Feliway – is also available for cats. The Adaptil and Feliway diffusers can be purchased from your vet and it is advisable to install the diffusers as soon as possible before the fireworks start.

County jobless count reaches a record low

New volunteer group looking for Suc-Cess

New Cess committee members Jenny Leech and Becci Mason with Chair, Dave Hancock have plans and is looking for help

RUGELEY based volunteer group Community Engagement Support Services (Cess) have relaunched themselves with a new committee and is changing its charity status to be a Community Interest Organisation (CIO).

One of their first new initiatives is the development of a group for youngsters with learning disabilities and disorders who meet at the Rose Theatre on Monday evenings.

This relies on volunteers and bids for funding but offers young people the opportunity to socialise and have fun.

Other projects include befriending elderly and vulnerable people by helping, with activities such as escorted visits and advice; offering services for residents unable to tend their gardens and getting local schools involved with their community using activities such as the Lantern Parade and Carol Service.

If you would like to get involved with Cess and could offer a small amount of time or have any suggestions for future community developments please contact Kitty Leach on 07957836692 or email info@cess.org.uk

STAFFORDSHIRE is enjoying record low unemployment figures with just over 4,000 people in the county claiming jobseeker's allowance, the latest statistics reveal.

It comes as the nation as a whole saw unemployment fall to the lowest level in seven years, dipping by 79,000 to 1.7million from June to August.

At the same time the number of people in work increased by 140,000 in the same three months to 31 million, the highest since records began in 1971.

In Staffordshire the overall jobseeker's allowance claimant count was up 232 to 4,751, although the rate of claimants among the county's working population remained at its historic low of 0.9 per cent.

But the county council was keen to point out that the number of people just claiming jobseekers' allowance fell to an all-time low in the county of 4,249 in September.

In Stafford overall claimants rose by 13 to 657, or 0.8 per cent, but elsewhere the figures were better.

In South Staffordshire the claimant count was down by 33 to 685, or one per cent of the district's working population, while in Cannock Chase it was down by 34 to 729, or 1.2 per cent. In Lichfield the claimant count was down by just one, to 410 in September, or 0.7 per cent.

It comes as courier firm APC Overnight in Cannock announced last month it was set to create 100 jobs.

Earlier this year online retail giant Amazon conducted its own recruitment drive also looking to bring in 100 temporary workers at its Rugeley depot.

Staffordshire County Council's economy chief Mark Winnington said: "Many visitors will know that we are home to global leaders like Jaguar Land Rover and JCB, but we are attracting more and more smaller firms in our key sector industries at innovation sites like Keele."

THE owners of a premier group of parks in the Heart of England & mid-Wales are opening their gates this weekend to welcome visitors who want to explore the idea of holiday home ownership.

The aptly named "Bestparks" group are hosting a Showcase Weekend on October 24 and 25 at all of their six, first class country parks.

This family owned group prides itself on operating a range of parks that never compromise on the Bestparks Five-Star standards.

"What sets us apart from our competitors is that we have parks within our group that can match most holiday home owner's needs," explained Alwyn Jones, founder of the business and father to Wayne and Glenn who both run their own Bestparks.

Location

"Some people want more facilities for families, whilst others want small and intimate country retreats," he added. "Within the Bestparks group we are able to deliver on all counts!"

The proud father added: "Wayne and Sarah's park – Poston Mill is unrivalled in the area for location and park facilities, while Pearl Lake run by Glenn and Hannah is a luxury country park set around a breathtaking 15 acre glacier lake."

Other parks include The Smithy in mid-Wales, which is popular with people from the Midlands wanting a high quality halfway point for the coast; Arrow Bank a small select park in the historical village of Eardisland; Westbrook a touring park near Ludlow and Rockbridge Park at Presteigne which also has park homes for sale.

The open weekend will showcase what Bestparks has to offer

This is the third open weekend of the season and is a chance for all six parks to showcase themselves and their facilities and an opportunity for visitors to view the wide range of the latest 2016 model holiday homes on display.

Each park will be hosting events over the weekend and as all the parks are within an hour's drive of each other visitors have a great opportunity to also enjoy this beautiful region.

A TOWN crier from Lichfield has been named the best in the world.

Ken Knowles won the title at the Central Otago World Town Crier Tournament in New Zealand in a three-day invitation-only competition.

He said on Facebook: "Feeling pretty pleased, I can tell you."

Ken was appointed Lichfield's town crier in 2009 and travels all over the world to show off his remarkable oratory talent and turn of phrase.

Before leaving for New Zealand, he hosted the fifth Young Town Criers competition as part of Lichfield Heritage Weekend.

He will next be seen in his official capacity hosting the Lichfield City Christmas Lights switch-on on November 29.

Opticians in fundraiser

AN opticians in Lichfield helped to raise £175 in aid of the Guide Dogs charity.

Staff at Specsavers, in Market Street, raised the money by selling home-baked cakes and raffle tickets. The store's Praful Patel said: "We're very grateful to our customers."

FOCUS ON BURNTWOOD

Snub to combined group 'is a missed opportunity'

A BURNTWOOD district councillor says a decision not to join the West Midlands Combined Authority was 'a missed opportunity'.

It comes after bosses at Lichfield District Council decided that not enough is yet known about the new authority in order to take such an important step. However, council leader Mike Wilcox said they were not ruling out joining some time in the future.

The decision was criticised by Labour group leader Councillor Sue Woodward, who represents the Chase Terrace ward.

The WMCA is made up of seven constituent members which cover the metropolitan areas - Birmingham, Coventry, Dudley, Sandwell, Solihull, Walsall and Wolverhampton - who will have powers transferred to them from the Government, and non-constituent members made up of local authorities on the fringes who will not have voting rights.

The Cities Devolution Bill will see English cities given power to make decisions on key issues such as housing and transport.

Councillor Woodward, who also represents Burntwood North on Staffordshire County Council, said: "I think it's a huge missed opportunity, particularly for anyone wanting to improve our skills base."

By Marion Brennan

Neighbouring Cannock Chase Council voted last month in favour of becoming a member.

Elsewhere in the county, MPs want Staffordshire, Shropshire, Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire to team up and bid for devolved powers from Whitehall.

As reported in the Chronicle, the proposed Meridian economic partnership would be set up as a rival to the West Midlands Combined Authority ("MPs want return of the Merca power-house", October 9).

The idea is being put forward by South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson, Stafford MP Jeremy Lefroy and Staffordshire Moorlands MP Karen Bradley.

Instructor Bridget Foden surrounded by Mini Mambos

Time for fun for the under-5s

CHILDREN under five are invited to take part in a weekly Mini-Mambos class where they will be able to enjoy a wide range of fun activities.

The sessions are packed full of games, movement, music making and story time to keep the youngsters amused.

Councillor Andy Smith, Lichfield District Council Cabinet Member for Leisure & Parks, said: "These classes are an excellent way to promote co-ordination, motor and social skills."

"They also offer parents a chance to meet other local families."

Mini Mambos runs on Wednesdays at Burntwood Leisure Centre from 1.30 to 2.30pm.

The parent/guardian sessions cost £2.70 and there is no need to book.

Hopes that play will be hypnotic

LICHFIELD Players are performing, Hypnosis by David Tristram, at the city's Garrick Theatre until the weekend.

The play's author said: "There are over a thousand performances of my plays every year all over the world, but local productions are always special."

"If you like your comedies tinged with a touch of genuine intrigue, magic and thriller menace, and a plot with more twists than a buckled Slinky, then this is the play for you."

Directed by Maureen George, the play is being performed in the Garrick's Studio until Saturday.

For more information contact the box office on 01543 412121.

Plans sent in for scrutiny

PLANNING applications received by Lichfield District Council include:

Formerly The Greyhound, Boney Hay Road, Burntwood - erection of seven homes and associated works.

Sandborough House Farm, Yoxall Road, Hamstall Ridware - change of use of barn to form a four-bedroom dwelling.

190 Rake End, Hill Ridware - single-storey side extension.

Comments must be received by November 2.

Grab an early Christmas celebration and join this popular Turkey and Tinsel break, staying in Torquay on the beautiful English Riviera.

En route from the Midlands visit Exeter with its beautiful cathedral, medieval houses and vibrant shopping centre – perfect for some last minute purchases - before the festivities at the hotel start with a sherry reception. Dinner and entertainment in the evening are included. After all, this is "Christmas Eve".

If a little fresh air is needed to stimulate the appetite on "Christmas Day", an optional excursion aboard the Dartmouth Steam Railway is offered passing through spectacular coastline scenery, bringing the chance to explore the town of Dartmouth itself.

A traditional meal with all the trimmings is included at the hotel, followed by festive entertainment.

The four-day itinerary allows for free time in Torquay too, plus another optional trip to Dartmoor Zoo, which has been transformed to a popular tourist attraction, gaining publicity for the Mee family from the book and film "We Bought A Zoo".

Exmouth is the final destination with the chance to join an optional cruise along the River Exe. On board enjoy mulled wine and mince pies whilst admiring the Jurassic coast, the perfect end to a pre-Christmas break.

Use the HS2 funding to reopen lines say experts

HS2 should be scrapped and its £50 billion cost spent on bringing old lines back into use that were closed by Dr Beeching, experts say.

The Bow Group, a Conservative thinktank, said redundant lines could be revived at a fraction of the cost of HS2. Its report Reviving Britain's Railways sets out the potential benefits of less expensive schemes against major projects. Recommendations include looking at closed routes and match-funding when private sector investment could help to reopen lines.

Lines in Staffordshire would be revived if the idea went ahead.

Under the Beeching cuts, 4,500 miles of track was put out of use but recently a number of lines and stations have reopened and are thriving.

The Chase Line, which lost its passenger services in 1965, reopened as far as Hednesford in 1989 and then Rugeley in 1997. Cannock station now serves 225,000 passengers a year. HS2 will cut through 46 miles of Staffordshire countryside to link London with Birmingham under the first phase of construction and to Manchester in the second phase.

Bow Group chairman Ben Harris-Quinney said: "At a time when the focus is on value for money, government should be looking to fully utilise the country's existing resources, rather than pouring funds into major schemes such as High Speed 2."

Bostin Doreen is talk of the Black Country

Doreen, aka Gill Jordan, of Cheslyn Hay and Wolves legend Steve Bull, who plays himself in the movie

A FICTIONAL phenomenon is currently taking the Black Country by storm – and had its screen premiere last weekend.

Cheslyn Hay actor Gill Jordan is the star of Doreen – The Movie, which was screened for the first time at Wolverhampton's Light House Cinema on Saturday night.

A packed crowd lapped up the feature-length film following the antics of Doreen, who rose to fame after a YouTube video saw her diagnose herself with 'lazy cow syndrome'.

One of those in attendance was Wolves goalscoring legend Steve Bull, who made a cameo in the movie alongside another of the Black Country's favourite sons Robert Plant.

Bully said: "It was lovely being involved, but a bit nerve-wracking."

"I think people from the Black Country will love the film and it's great to hear all the Black Country accents."

Humour

Married mum-of-three Mrs Jordan, 47, said: "It's amazing – you couldn't imagine this happening when we started. I think the humour of it attracts people to Doreen and it's a refreshing change from what people are used to."

The role of Doreen was written specially for Mrs Jordan, by playwright and film-maker David Tristram, who said he was overwhelmed by the response to the character.

He said: "Doreen-mania seems to be sweeping everywhere and it's great."

"It's fantastic for the Black Country and people can be proud to hear the Black Country accents and witness the sense of humour on the big screen."

Quarry Bank-born Mr Tristram shrugged off any criticism that the film portrays the Black Country in a bad light.

"I think people who criticise Doreen are missing the point," he said. "It's not stereotyping people – it's just a character I've created."

999 problems as lines are down due to fault

CALLERS to the emergency 999 number in parts of Cannock were unable to get through for several hours following a fault on the line.

Staffordshire Police confirmed that around 1,000 landlines and several mobile phone connections were affected.

The alert was raised at around 10.45am on Monday by the Civil Contingencies Unit which supports local councils and emergency services. Advice was issued on social media for people getting an engaged tone on the usual 999 line to contact the 101 police number instead. Engineers restored the service by mid-afternoon.

Staffordshire Police spokesman Hazel Dockery said: "The problem was due to a technical fault on the telephone lines and the service was restored as soon as possible."

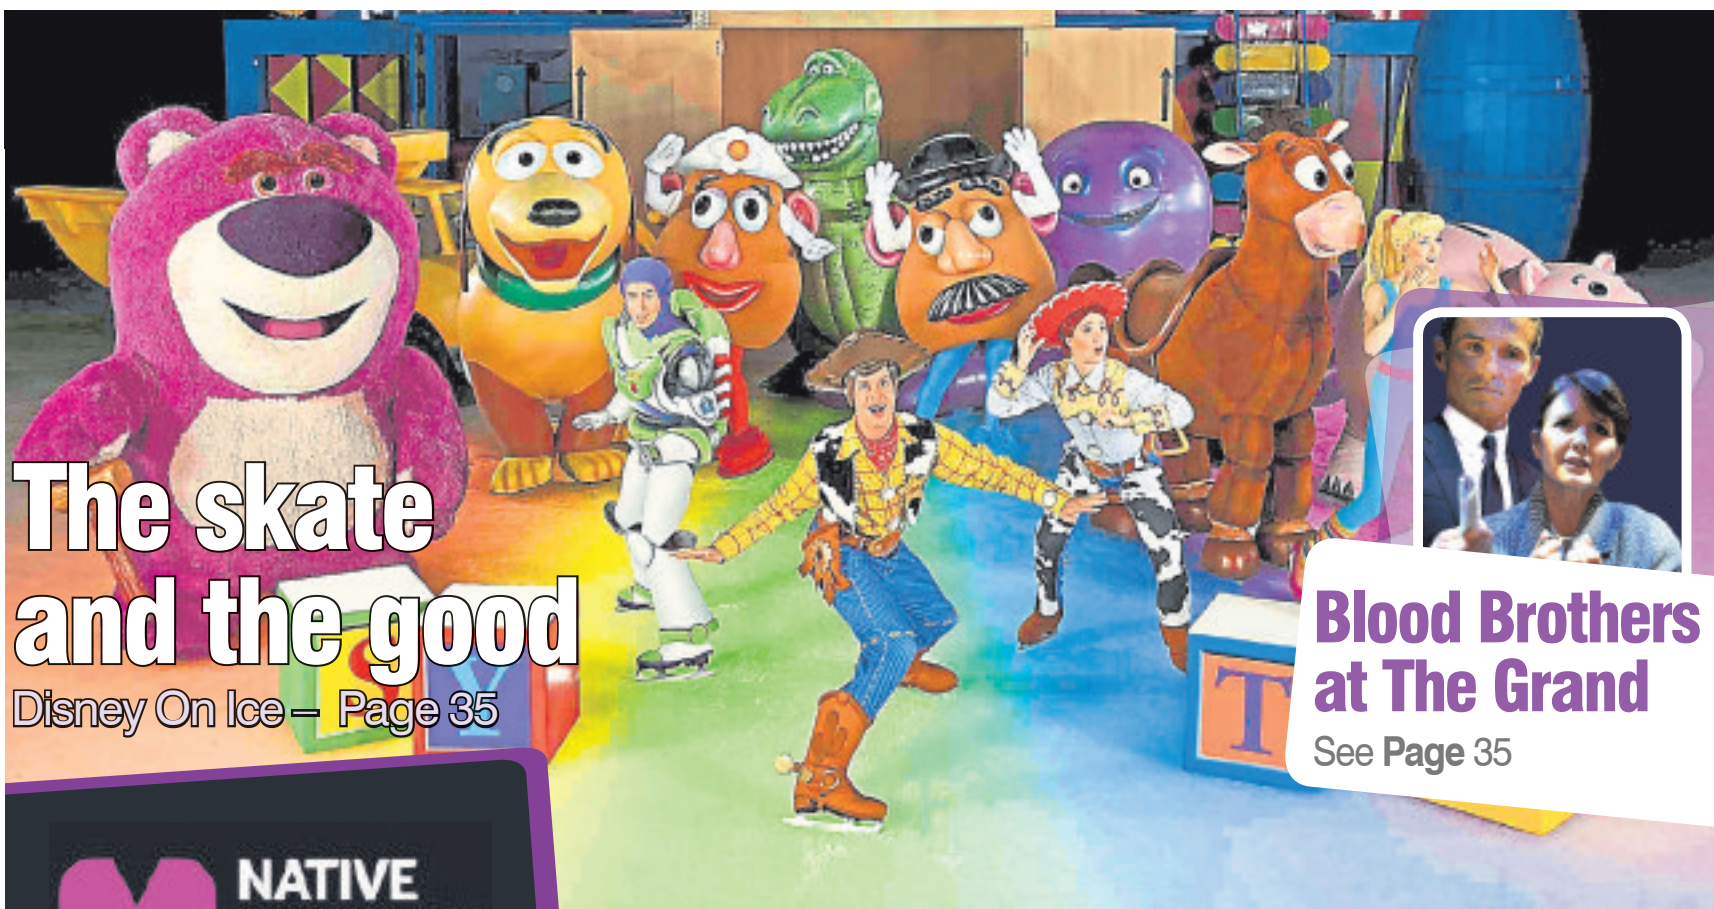

The technical failure also affected Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Service, with their lines being re-installed before noon.

UK fans of Disney On Ice are the best

DISNEY'S most popular characters will be brought to life when some of the world's greatest ice skaters arrive in Birmingham.

Disney On Ice will present Worlds of Enchantment until November 1 at the Barclaycard Arena.

Fans can rev up for non-stop fun with four of their favourite Disney stories. Lightning McQueen, Mater and the crew of Disney/Pixar's Cars will perform high-speed stunts and race across the ice while Ariel and The Little Mermaid's undersea kingdom will give the audience a chance to dive into adventure.

The toys are back in town as Toy Story favourites Buzz Lightyear, Woody and Jessie try to escape from the rambunctious tots of Sunnyside Daycare and youngsters can also enter the wintery world of Arendelle with sisters Anna and Elsa and pals Olaf and Kristoff from Disney's Frozen, as they learn the meaning of true love.

Ice skater Dora Vikar will be among the cast taking to the floor. She is part of the 80-strong Disney entourage who are part of the show.

"We tell the stories that people know from the movies," said Dora. "The present show has four stories in it. It starts with Toy Story, which everybody knows, then it goes into the Little Mermaid, which is another classic. After the intermission, we have Cars and then Frozen is the last segment."

"We have fantastic music and lighting and of course a lot of skating and lots of spins and costumes and tricks. I'm very proud to be part of it. I've been with Disney On Ice for 15 years and I wouldn't be doing it if I didn't love it. It's really fun."

Britain has one of the most enthusiastic audiences for Disney On Ice.

"The UK is fantastic for being very excited," she explained. "We go backstage and we are always saying: 'Did you see that little boy, or the mum, the way they were happy?' People love the show."

"I would say the UK public is really loud and enthusiastic. Toy Story always gets a big reaction in the UK and that's great for me because I'm in that segment a lot, playing Jessie."

Brothers and sisters show

SINGER Maureen Nolan is following in the footsteps of three of her sisters when she takes on the iconic role of Mrs Johnstone in the musical Blood Brothers, which is being staged at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre.

One of the singing siblings The Nolans, who had hits in the UK, Japan, Ireland and Australia during the 1970s and 80s, she first followed sisters Denise, Linda and Bernie into the role ten years ago.

"I had just done my first play in 2004 and I got a call to say would I come and audition for Blood Brothers," said Maureen. "Linda was leaving the West End to go on tour so I auditioned and got the part, and that was ten years ago."

"People laugh at me but I said to someone recently that they'll have to surgically remove me from this part!"

"I absolutely love the musical and absolutely love Mrs Johnstone, so it's a winning combination."

She added: "I've done other bits throughout the years, I've done Footloose and various plays, straight plays and comedies, but I always ended up coming back to Blood Brothers."

Maureen will be starring opposite Wet Wet Wet singer Marti Pellow as the Narrator (pictured together right) in the much-loved Liverpool drama-musical by Willy Russell.

It is staged at the Grand from Monday to Saturday with tickets starting from £19.50.

Silver Sword is brought to stage

A much-loved children's novel is being brought to life on stage in Birmingham next week.

Ian Serraillier's The Silver Sword will be at The Old Rep on Station Road from tonight (Thu) to Saturday.

The classic story of a family forced to flee their homeland because of war is echoed in modern times, though this deals with a Polish family who flee Warsaw in 1940, after the Nazis invade, and aim to reunite in neutral Switzerland.

Adapted by Susie McKenna and Steven Edis, it features animal puppets. Visit website www.oldreptheatre.co.uk or call 0121 3599444.

The Voice of Rock returns to Robin 2

VETERAN rockers feature at Bilton's Robin 2 over three consecutive nights next week.

Dutch progressive rock legends Focus, featuring Thijs Van Leer, are at the Mount Pleasant venue on Sunday. The band had hits in the 70s with Sylvia and Hocus Pocus and have recently re-recorded them using modern techniques. The 'Voice of Rock', AKA Cannock-raised singer and bassist Glenn Hughes, of Trapeze, Deep Purple and Black Country Communion, is in concert on Monday. Then on Tuesday it's a date rescheduled from March for 1970s psychedelic outfit Pink Fairies.

The breezy, light and airy interior of the Cornhouse

Fishy starter – beetroot and vodka cured salmon

Tiled floors and wooden tables and chairs make The Cornhouse a welcoming environment

The Cornhouse restaurant in Shrewsbury

Time for Cornhouse to rise to next level in town's gastro-style race

IT'S been about two years since The Cornhouse opened its doors to an unsuspecting Shropshire public.

The delightful bistro at the foot of Shrewsbury's Wyle Cop had undergone a transformative change. Under its former ownership it had been dark, dingy and distinctly unpalatable.

And then, almost overnight, it was converted by its new owners into a bright and breezy, light and airy venue that produced distinctive and consistently good gastro classics.

The Cornhouse occupies a fabulous location; it's an easy walk for townfolk and is between two of the town's largest car parks, providing easy access for visitors. It seems to be busy most of the time and earns decent-to-good reviews on TripAdvisor. I just get the feeling, however, that it's ready to move up a level.

The service is pretty good. Two men were working the floor on the evening my friend and I dined. They were exceptional. A slim, dark-haired man was a class act. He'd booked our table earlier and was attentive and engaging throughout. Charming and polite, he ran the show like clockwork, making sure our glasses were always half-full, rather than half-empty. He was a real asset.

The food was pretty good, but could have been better. It was tasty, well-presented and decently-priced – but not particularly memorable. A flash of inspiration, a twist more seasoning, an additional ingredient here and there – those are the things that would have made all the difference.

My friend started with a beetroot-andvodka-cured salmon dish. Beautifully coloured and with knock-your-socks-off quantities of vodka, it was an accomplished if unspectacular starter. My crispy lamb salad was equally decent. Thin strips of deep-fried pulled lamb were golden and crunchy, contrasting well with the bitter leaves beneath. It was decent, but, in truth, it needed something else.

Crispy

The mains were similar. They were pretty good, decent but unremarkable. I opted for a chilli beef salad. Thin strips of crispy beef were piled high atop an Asian slaw. The plate had been scattered with cashew nuts and drizzled with sweet chilli. The contrasting zing-zang flavours and pleasing textures were a delight. The creaminess of the cashews provided balance against the gentle, just-two-on-the-thermostat heat of the chilli. It was good, but not great; serviceable but unspectacular.

The bangers and mash was also fine. My friend polished off the plate and had no complaints. Though it wasn't food that captured the imagination, the ingredients were of a good quality and had been pleasantly cooked.

A warm waffle and ice cream finished off my friend's evening – and probably made his trousers a little tighter than they were at the start of the evening. Again, it was pleasant and enjoyable, if not unremarkable. I ate lemon tart, which was served with tart berries. It was so-so.

The Cornhouse has established itself as a popular and respected venue during two hard years of trading. Running restaurants is no easy game and the owners deserve all credit for their work. It's time now, however, to push on and reach the next level.

Doctor Who (BBC1, 8.20pm)
Last week, the gallivanting Gallifreyan and his sidekick arrived in Britain during Viking times, where they helped save villagers from destruction and met a mysterious young woman who captivated the Doctor. Now he and Clara are off on their travels again, this time turning up in England in 1651. They've hardly had time to step out of the Tardis before they're confronted by The Nightmare, a highwayman who, along with his assistant, stalks the dark streets of London. The robber is certainly a vicious chap, but the Time Lord realises there's more to him than meets the eye - or at least, he has a mysterious force behind him. But perhaps most remarkably, the adventure will reunite the Doctor with a couple of very familiar faces...

The Doc comes to the aid of an American tourist

As with most picturesque Cornish seaside towns, Portwenn is no stranger to visitors. Over the past few years, the fishing village which Martin Ellingham calls home has welcomed the likes of Ben Miller, Chris O'Dowd and most recently Caroline Quentin. However, even the busy streets of Portwenn real-life alter-ego, Port Isaac, have probably never witnessed such a throng of stars. Not only do British talent Kelly Adams (Mr Selfridge) and Gemma Jones (Bridget Jones' Diary) grace the narrow streets tonight, there is also a cameo role from Hollywood A-lister Sigourney Weaver (Aliens). Doc Martin star Martin Clunes revealed that Weaver was a big fan of the comedy drama and jumped at the chance of featuring in some small way. Tonight she briefly plays an American tourist who bumps into the grumpy medic. It's not wonder he's in that mood either. The doctor and Louisa (Caroline Catz) receive an intriguing invitation from Dr Timoney (Emily Bevan) to attend additional therapy sessions. This aspect of the current series has provided laughs and insightful moment in abundance, and it is pleasing to realise the cast have enjoyed those scenes as much as we have. Catz revealed: "You really do feel like you are in the session, and you go to the heart of what Dr Timoney is trying to tease out of both of them and you can see how difficult it is for them to deal with it. "It is putting them in extreme and uncomfortable situations which makes it feel fresh." For once though, it seems Dr Timoney may be on the receiving end of assistance when she is involved in a car accident outside the school. Inside the building there is trouble of a different kind when the new art teacher (guest-star Adams) angers Louisa with her rather unorthodox methods. However, there is good news on the horizon for one of the series' most popular characters – and it's long overdue for poor PC Joe Penhale. It may not have escaped your attention but the unlucky-in-love constable isn't exactly the best at his job. Fortunately for him, sleepy Portwenn's crime figures are lower than Doc Martin's tolerance for blood, but the chief of police thinks the lack of crime is due to Penhale's excellent policing and offers him a promotion to Exeter. Penhale is initially confused by this turn of events, but actor John Marquez knows that his character will be delighted. "The move is what he has always wanted in his life. It has been his dream to have his work noticed and respected. It's a dream to go and work in the big city and have a better job," he said. So, it looks like Portwenn could be losing one of it's most-loved characters – but will any of the residents be bothered? Another character facing a change is Bert Large (Ian McNeice), whose financial problems with the restaurant have given him no end of trouble. In tonight's episode, he has to face his past and return to life as a handyman.

Sigourney Weaver appears in Doc Martin, Monday, ITV, 9pm

BEST OF THE REST

Fargo Channel 4, 10pm
The events at the diner continue to have repercussions for various people on both sides of the law in the towns of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and Luverne, Minnesota. Gerhardt crime family matriarch Floyd and her boys receive a surprising offer, while two unlikely murderers try their best to clean up the mess they have made. Noah Hawley's black comedy drama inspired by the Coen brothers' film of the same name, starring Kirsten Dunst, Jesse Plemons and Patrick Wilson.

TUESDAY
River BBC1, 9pm
With his career resting on the outcome of his psychiatric report, the detective keeps his unofficial investigation into Stevie's death to himself. Tensions run high with his new partner Ira, who fears being dragged down by River's instability, while Chrissie needs him to investigate a suspicious workplace accident that has left a foreman fighting for his life. However, his mind is elsewhere as he discovers that Stevie had been keeping secrets from him, forcing him to reassess how well he really knew his best friend and colleague.

Catastrophe Channel 4, 10pm
Sharon Horgan and Rob Delaney's charming and well-received romcom about an Irish woman and American man whose week-long affair leads to a pregnancy and subsequent tumultuous relationship, returns. The strength of the first series, which ended in February, was its intention not to shy away from the messy and awkward complications that naturally occur during a fledgling romance. And this new run begins in the same vein as the mismatched couple welcome their newborn into the world.

WEDNESDAY
Cuffs BBC1, 8pm
You're probably thinking that the last thing British telly needs right now is another crime drama – after all, we've had the likes of From Darkness, Unforgotten and River thrust upon us in recent weeks. However, the BBC promises that this is a little different. Where the aforementioned trio focus on investigations into particular crimes, Cuffs is more about the officers themselves, the bobbies on the beat who are on the frontline every day, coming face-to-face with members of the public. We'll see them deal with everything life can throw at them, from a booby-trapped cannibis farm in a suburban semi and an elderly farmer's wife with a shotgun, to middle-class dog-napping, fisticuffs between pensioners and Saturday night drinkers.

My Mania and Me Channel 4, 11pm
We've all given in to temptation every now and then, even if that means just having an extra biscuit with a cup of tea. But the four women featured in this eye-opening documentary can't stop themselves from giving in to their wildest desires. Kim cannot stop stealing, Crystal has to have sex every day, Hayley is gambling away her family's fortunes and Kezia spends thousands on clothes she never wears.

THURSDAY
Unforgotten ITV, 9pm
As the investigation into the cold-case murder continues, the forensic team discovers that the marks on the victim's body are consistent with known gangland torture methods. With this in mind, Cassie and Sunny question Sir Phillip about his involvement with a prominent East End crime family 40 years ago. Did the businessman or any of the shady associates of his youth have anything to do with Jimmy's disappearance or murder? Meanwhile, Eric and Claire's anniversary gets under way. Crime drama, starring Nicola Walker, Sanjeev Bhaskar, Trevor Eve and Tom Courtenay.

FRIDAY
Faking the Moon Landings: Conspiracy Channel 5, 8pm
Historians, scientists and former Nasa employees examine evidence that journalist Marcus Allen claims proves that the moon landings were a hoax. Cameras capture the moment former astronaut Buzz Aldrin punches film-maker Bart Sibrel in response to the accusation. Plus, British computer hacker Gary McKinnon's claims to have discovered the USA has a secret space fleet in orbit powered by alien technology.

Winner for the Midlands

By John Griffiths

If you're already a biker, you will know how some bikes can stir your soul, make your heart beat faster at the mere anticipation of the thrills to come.

This is the essence of Triumph's Speed Triple, the urgent beat of the engine through the tuned exhausts from the moment you turn the key is a sensation to stir the blood.

This beast of a bike is all about sensations, from its aggressive looks to its almost brutal power.

It delivers, too, a factory-built 'naked' machine with sports bike performance: blistering acceleration and track day speeds in excess of 150mph are possible (if you could hang on to it).

The £9,749 Speed Triple is designated a roadster, or 'streetfighter' design with sharp, angular lines and, of course, no fairing or screen so you do feel the pressure of 70mph headwinds on motorway runs. It helps to keep you legal on a bike which is clearly capable of so much more, but since you risk your licence by using its full power that's academic anyway.

But the hefty helping of power is very useful lower down, where overtaking on heavy trafficked roads is a breeze. For a high performance bike revving up to 10,500rpm, it has an almost surprising urge and pick-up in the low to mid-ranges, typically from 3,000 to 6,000rpm where it pulls like a train. That rapid beat on tickover hints at what is to come, and here it does – a little tweak on the throttle has you rocketing forward.

The first Speed Triple appeared in 1994, but it has undergone a number of upgrades including a bigger, more powerful engine and new chassis.

The current model is powered by Triumph's signature 1,050cc, three-cylinder, fuel injected engine with a hefty 135bhp and 111Nm of torque on tap.

The triple already has a distinctive soundtrack, and Triumph has tuned the twin exhausts like a musical instrument to make the most of that asset. It's a very pleasing accompaniment to your ride.

The Speed Triple is fairly tall for its class, with plenty of ground clearance and high mounted footpegs for those who indulge in particularly enthusiastic cornering.

The side effect is that when you get aboard you do feel a bit like a jockey, but the bars are fairly wide and high so the riding position proved surprisingly comfortable over long distances, even for a set of old bones prone to stiffening up these days.

The only drawback, common to all street-fighter designs, is the wind pressure which can make long motorway runs quite tiring. You could always fit a screen, but it would need to be carefully chosen not only for its effectiveness but also its impact on the funky, sharp lines of the bike itself.

The small, solid deflector behind the 'bug eye' twin headlights seems to do its work surprisingly well at A-road speeds, smoothing the airflow enough to prevent buffeting while allowing enough cooling air for those wearing full kit on a warm day.

Maybe because of aerodynamic issues, the Speed Triple doesn't feel as light through the twisty bits as some dedicated sports machines, but once settled into a bend it is highly stable and composed. The suspension, while sportily firm, soaks up bumps and doesn't rattle your teeth even over poorer surfaces.

It's a good set-up, especially since the rear-most of the two 17-inch wheels is shod with ultra low-profile 190/55 tyres (120/70 at the front).

The Speed Triple's Brembo brakes are outstanding: twin 320mm discs with four piston calipers at the front and a single Nissin 255mm disc with twin pistons at the rear.

The bike shares its engine, albeit a little modified, with the full on sports bike, the Sprint ST, which gives some indication of its character. With physical and legal limits discouraging the use of its full range of power, its blistering acceleration and overtaking ability means it nonetheless offers all the sensations and thrills of fast bike riding: perhaps more so because of your exposure to the elements. And that signature triple soundtrack is the icing on the cake.

Factor in its looks and attitude, and you can see why it's been a winner for the Midlands firm, with more than 70,000 sales so far.

New SUV is looking right on the money

By John Griffiths

SsangYong isn't the best-known name on Britain's roads, but its latest model may be about to win the car maker new friends.

The Double Dragons brand, which has been making 4x4s for years, has dipped its toes into a new sector of the market with the Tivoli, a value-for-money entry into the burgeoning B-segment SUV market.

It's a growth sector across the world and particularly in western Europe with new models such as the Mazda CX-3 and the Fiat 500X joining the scramble for sales this year.

Smaller than the company's revamped Korando, it shares its bigger brother's core philosophy: offering a high specification, economical SUV at a price where rival ranges start.

You can buy a Tivoli, depending on trim and your choice of petrol or diesel option, from between £12,950 and £19,500. At present there are only two-wheel drive versions in the UK, but the 4x4 models will be here by the end of the year.

The test car was the well-equipped ELX manual, powered by a punchy yet economical 1.6-litre diesel. This new engine turns out 115PS of power and a hefty (for its size) 300Nm of torque, all of which is available from just 1,500rpm.

It's a lot for a B-segment sized car, so pulls strongly almost from the word go and all the way through the gears.

Appeal

It's vital statistics are 0 to 62mph in under 12 seconds, an average of almost 66mpg and a low 113g/km CO2 rating – the sort of figures to appeal to potential buyers looking for a new SUV whose running costs won't break the bank.

It is the only thing 'cheap' about the Tivoli tested, as its interior has a classy, upmarket feel and is certainly well equipped despite the price tag.

It starts with a pair of supportive and comfortable leather sports-style seats for the driver and front passenger, with enough room in the back that even six-footers won't feel cramped – the Tivoli is one of the widest cars in its class. The D-shaped sports steering wheel is leather clad and heated, adding to the premium feel.

The trim appears well-finished, particularly around the centre console and controls, and includes a seven-inch touch screen with satnav, often an extra on some of its competitors. The screen also doubles as the reversing camera screen and control centre for the six-speaker audio system, with its RDS radio plus Bluetooth and iPod connectivity.

Dual-zone climate control, automatic headlamps and wipers, heated front seats, front and rear parking sensors and cruise control are among the items which help to elevate the Tivoli up a class or two in value-for-money terms.

SsangYong has taken a slightly different road to some of its rivals, too: instead of looking like a bigger, taller version of a family hatchback, it does actually look like a modern 4x4. You still get all the advantages of a commanding view and a seat hip height which makes access easy.

On the ELX the 18in diamond cut wheels may not be ideal for off-roading (you wouldn't want to risk scuffs and scratches), but they certainly look the part in the high street, especially with the big 215/45 tyres.

Rigid

Safety is well-catered for, beginning with its rigid mono-coque construction which also means light weight and translates into sure, precise handling.

Plus there are seven airbags and the now standard features such as stability, emergency brake and hill start assist systems are supplemented by an active rollover protection system, speed-sensitive automatic door locking and hazard warning lights, which automatically activate if you have to do an emergency stop. The brakes are discs all round (ventilated at the front) with four-channel ABS.

The boot space of 423 litres is large for the class, and naturally split-fold rear seats add flexibility for different passenger/cargo combinations.

The 1.6 diesel gives plenty of relaxed performance for most drivers (especially if you're economy minded) but there is the option of a 1.6-litre petrol powerplant with 128PS of power which has a CO2 rating 149g/km with the 'stop/go' system. A six-speed manual gearbox is standard, but a six-speed auto is available as an option.

The diesel engine in the test car is brand new, and SsangYong engineers have put a lot of effort into optimum power delivery in the mid ranges while also minimising noise. Indeed, it doesn't get raucous even when approaching the rev limit, although in practice that's not really something you need to do.

It combines style with more traditional, businesslike 4x4 looks, an efficient new engine range and excellent economy.

But when it comes to money, there are few rivals who offer the same levels of luxury and equipment for the price.

Tourer practicality but sport car look

By Ian Donaldson

We'll never know how close the new Subaru came to being called the Galuto, Acolin or Cyting before the company decided on Levorg.

It's a mix of the words Legacy (a well respected existing car from Subaru), Revolution and Touring. So the other three work just as well.

Beneath this unusual moniker sits a car that might have been designed especially for a limited number of potential car buyers, all of them deeply wedded to Subaru's design ethos.

So the Levorg features three features bound up with the very idea of a modern Subaru, all items that the select band of Subaru faithful find essential in the car of their dreams.

They are, from the front, an engine whose four cylinders sit flat to the ground, unlike the tall block of oiliness usually found under a bonnet. This puts the weight closer to the road and the car ought to attack corners with less lean in the process.

Then – back a little – we come to the front wheels. Which in the Levorg's case are given the same amount of power to transmit as the pair at the back.

Yes, it's permanent four-wheel drive, another Subaru article of faith and the saviour of many a country vet on a wet, slippery road deep in a Yorkshire dale.

And, sitting behind that lie-flat engine is a gearbox without any gears, or more accurately, only one, which varies itself as you push the throttle harder. That, theoretically at least, ought to mean the engine is always performing at its most economical. We'll see.

Holding all the mechanical bits together is an estate car body that has more space inside for people and luggage than the last Legacy Tourer. Subaru reckons it has the 'imposing presence of a sports car with the practicality of a tourer', which is pushing it a bit. To these eyes the Levorg looks like a sensible estate car with a big bonnet scoop hinting at a rally-filled past.

If you think all of the above marks Subaru out as a company that ploughs its own furrow, you'd be right. It expects to sell a modest 500 Levorgs in a full year in the UK and you can bet there are that number of potential buyers for whom this car – and no other – fits the bill precisely.

Once the decision is taken that it's going to be new Levorg on the drive, there is little else to consider, except the colour. The car comes with but a single choice of equipment (thankfully, there's a lot of it) and in just three metallic colours – grey, white or blue.

Rivals – the Volvo V60 and Mazda6 estate are mentioned by Subaru – offer lots more choice (diesels, front drive only and manual gearboxes, for instance) but that is never the point with a Subaru. Owners love them for their individuality.

They will also like the Levorg for its kit count, which includes LED headlights, 18 inch alloy wheels, keyless access, leather seats (heated in the front), navigation with a big touchscreen, dual zone air conditioning and a rear parking camera.

Out on a mix of scenic Yorkshire roads, the Levorg's new turbocharged 1.6 litre petrol engine felt stronger than its quoted 168bhp and the CVT transmission avoided the soaring revs that used to mark keen use of similar systems.

In fact, on the right (smoothish) surface the Levorg cracks along with enthusiasm. Rougher roads produced an unwelcome pattering from the wheels but the car never felt less than welded to the road. We didn't try for the claimed 130mph top speed or 0-62mph dash in 8.9 seconds.

The test car showed 31mpg on its clear trip computer after a morning's work; not a bad return, if inevitably shy of the official 39.8mpg. The car's 164g/km CO₂ output attracts £180 annual road tax.

Like every Subaru in living memory, there is an indestructible feel about an interior that looks well ordered if a bit plain and obviously meant to do the business for years and years.

Minibus fits bill on city streets and open roads

By John Griffiths

A big nine-seater minibus with a mere 1.6 litres under the bonnet – just a few years ago the idea would have been almost laughable.

But the new Renault Trafic Passenger is a graphic illustration of how far the motor industry has come on fuel efficiency: smaller, cleaner but still powerful engines which are better for the environment as well as the operator's pockets.

In fact over its 35 year life and successive modifications, the 1.6 diesel (in single and twin turbo versions, with a range of outputs) had become the standard, compared to the 2.5 and later 2.0 litre units which previously provided the motive power.

The test version, in Business specification, was powered by the 115Ps turbo diesel, the middle of the three options, also produces 300Nm of torque, much of it available from engine speeds barely above tickover.

Commercial

With its six-speed gearbox, it's equally at home on city streets or open roads, and whether you have just the driver on board or a full complement of nine adults seems to make little difference.

This, after all, a minibus but it's based on a commercial vehicle chassis and drivetrain capable of carrying much heavier loads – some 1,239kg in this 115Ps, standard wheelbase version.

In passenger guise, the 115 Trafic SWB is capable of averaging 43.5mpg, according to official figures, with 170g/km of Co2.

Other options now include the latest twin turbo dCi power plants, with 125Ps and 145Ps respectively, which offer more power and torque but are leaner and cleaner, too, meeting the latest EU6b emissions regulations.

The nine seats are set in three rows of three, the second and third rows of which are easily removable without the use of tools which adds flexibility to the vehicle for business users who only occasionally need to transport customers or employees.

Access is via large sliding doors on either side, with the second row seat on the nearside folding forward to make access easier to the third row. All the seats have head restraints and three-point seatbelts.

The driver has a commanding view, not only in front but all round thanks to the large passenger windows and big, commercial vehicle style wing mirrors which are electrically adjustable.

The tall seat has height and lumbar support adjustment, and you get a fold-down armrest, too.

The steering is light and the braking system (discs all round with ABS) is progressive and effective – not too sharp that it will upset your passengers.

Slick

The short gear level, mounted on a pod in the centre console, has a slick, easy action but the handbrake – mounted on the floor – is a bit of a reach.

Fortunately that's not much of an issue in everyday driving as the hill start assist system is so effective even with a full complement of passengers that reaching for the lever is more seeking comfort than a real need.

The standard wheelbase version has a turning circle of under 12 metres, so it isn't difficult to manoeuvre around town and in car parks, particularly with such an excellent all round view.

Aerodynamic and sound-deadening measures have made the latest Trafic range quieter, which is just as important to a working vehicle as a purely passenger one.

It comes with electric windows, a whole raft of cabin storage areas, and new technology in the form of a DAB digital radio, Bluetooth and USB connectivity.

Like its commercial cousin, the Passenger is also fitted with safety systems including stability and traction control, plus a anti-trailer swing system if you need to tow.

Higher grade vehicles also come with the benefit of features such as air conditioning, cruise control, parking sensors, satnav, alloy wheels and automatic headlights.

Gas-filled struts make light work of opening the large – full width and height – rear cargo door, with a flat load floor at just about knee height to store cases and bags behind the third row seats.

Operators of the long wheelbase version get enough space there to take a large family and all their luggage on a fortnight's holiday.

There are lots of storage spaces, including cupholders, neatly placed within the driver's reach.

Prices start from £26,790 for the SWB 95dCi model rising to £32,335 for the top specification Sport version, with long wheelbase body and the latest 145Ps twin turbo engine.

Popular Juke gets an update

Nissan's Juke has sold like hot cakes and the latest update keeps the design extreme but adds smarter technology, cleaner engines and more personalisation options.

By most accepted rules of vehicle marketing, this shouldn't happen. For a car with as divisive a look as the Nissan Juke to rack up such huge sales would suggest that those who love it really love it.

There's a choice of two powerplants. The 1.2-litre DIG-T petrol engine, developed in conjunction with partners Renault features turbocharging and direct injection to deliver 115PS and 190Nm of torque. Despite its modest size, this 1197cc turbo four packs a real punch, offering sharper acceleration and greater torque than the old 1.6-litre naturally-aspirated motor.

The popular 1.6 DIG-T turbo petrol unit delivers lower end torque below 2,000rpm. Producing 190PS, this is available in both front and all-wheel drive versions. Go for an all-wheel drive variant and you have the option to specify the Xtronic transmission gearbox, which further improves fuel efficiency and acceleration.

The Juke's elevated stance but diminutive overall length doesn't promise a stellar driving experience, but within a few yards you'll realise that this is a fun car to hustle about. Nissan Dynamic Control helps here; an advanced driver control system giving the choice of three different driving modes, Normal, Sport or Eco, along with instant driving information and vehicle setting controls. The torque vectoring system on the latest all-wheel drive model incorporates technology that Nissan initially used to such devastating effect on their GTR supercar-slayer.

At the front, the upper lamps have been redesigned and now incorporate bi-intensity LED daytime running lamps, while the headlamps have Xenon bulbs for better visibility. Door mirrors get LED indicators and, where fitted, cameras for the Around View Monitor. Bumpers, tail lights, alloy wheels and available colours have all been tweaked. The Sunlight Yellow metallic is sure to be popular with those who resolutely refuse to blend in. Nissan also offers coloured inserts which can be applied to the mirror caps, side sills, roof spoiler and door handles in order to further personalise the exterior.

Perspective

Rival manufacturers were left scratching their heads when Nissan started selling Jukes from around £13,000. To put into perspective quite how good the value proposition is here, consider the fact that you can now buy a 1.2-litre turbocharged Juke for less than the price of a 1.0-litre normally-aspirated Ford Fiesta.

It's not as if the Juke is lacking in equipment either. Standard on all models are LED daytime running lamps, CD radio with an AUX-in socket, gear-shift indicator and a tyre pressure monitor.

The Visia 1.5 dCi and 1.6-litre DIG-T versions add alloy wheels, manual air conditioning, a drive computer and driver seat height adjustment. Go for the Acenta trim and you receive front fog lights, 17in alloy wheels, automatic air conditioning, remote audio controls, Bluetooth connectivity for phone and audio streaming, cruise control and a speed limiter, along with the Nissan Dynamic Control System and chrome interior touches. It's no wonder this model has proven so popular.

Tekna models add power folding door mirrors, light and rain sensors, the 'i-Key with Start/Stop' package and the latest NissanConnect with rear-view parking/reversing camera, Around View Monitor and Safety Shield. NissanConnect now offers smartphone connectivity through a 5.8in colour touch screen. The sat nav system integrates with Google to give information that ranges from weather forecasts to the location of fuel stations, hotels, restaurants and other points of interest.

A clever send-to-car function also allows drivers to search for their destination on their PC at home, then send destination instructions to their car's NissanConnect system at the click of a button. The set-up includes Bluetooth audio streaming and mobile phone integration, as well as AUX-in and USB slots.

Honest car comes with reasonable price tag

By John Griffiths

Kia is a car maker which has come a long way in a relatively short time – and has now pressed the 'go' pedal again by bursting into a new sector of the market.

Yes, Kia has gone sporty with a new range of cars based on its popular cee'd, and powered by a new and highly efficient range of engines. But it hasn't gone over the top by abandoning its core values of value and keeping ownership costs down.

The new pro. cee'd includes a sharply-styled version, the GT Line, with attractive coupe styling and something extra under the bonnet to attractive new buyers without breaking the bank. While it shares many of the styling and technological features of the 200bhp flagship pro. cee'd GT, it comes with a lower price, insurance, fuel and taxation costs.

The 'standard' cee'd has proven itself as a family-friendly hatchback and a value for money rival to the likes of the Ford Focus. But the car also showed itself to have track day credentials with its regular appearances as the 'reasonably priced car' driven by various stars on BBC's Top Gear series.

The pro. cee'd GT Line's sporting good looks and high specification can only add to its street credibility, and its new petrol and diesel engine options are well up to the task.

The 1.0 litre petrol turbo in the test car can only be described as a gem: don't be surprised if it turns up elsewhere in the Kia range before long. It's also the lowest priced version of the GT Line range, at £19,720.

Kia isn't the first car maker to turbocharger a small engine, of course; you get a car capable of more performance when you need it but better economy and lower CO2 emissions in normal driving, particularly around town.

The figures speak for themselves – 0 to 60mph in 10.7 seconds and an official average of 57.6mpg with CO2 emissions of 118g/km for the 118bhp version (there's also a lower rated 98bhp option which is slightly more economical).

To put that into context, the higher-rated Kia has around 50 per cent more oomph than a typical, normally-aspirated one litre car, and with 171Nm of torque it has nearly twice the pulling power, too. And, of course, it's bigger, with more passenger and cargo space than such rivals.

Satisfying

This impacts on the way the car drives, too. It has more get up and go at lower engine speeds, with no need to rev hard between gears or find yourself getting bogged down on the exit to corners. It's more relaxed and more satisfying, giving the feel of a bigger petrol or diesel engine while keeping small car economy.

It shares suspension and steering upgrades with the rest of the cee'd range and is the same size as the familiar five-door cee'd, but is noticeably lower and the 'B' pillar has been moved back, allowing for significantly wider doors to allow for easier access to the rear seats.

It's a competent car to drive, with well-weighted steering, a slick six-speed gearbox and efficient brakes. A relaxing experience in a comfortable, well-equipped cabin. Aerodynamic and mechanical improvements included in the redesign mean it's quieter, too.

You'll soon spot a pro. cee'd on the road: not only because of its three-door coupe lines but the four 'ice cube' style LED sidelights in their sculpted black housing are particularly distinctive. Daytime running lights, bespoke 17-inch alloys, a twin exhaust and side sill extensions add to the car's sporting flavour, with black trim highlighted by silver stitching plus some high-gloss and chrome finishes.

Air conditioning and a cooled glovebox are standard across the range, with a seven-inch touch screen on the centre console for satnav and traffic messaging system. There is also a new audio and connectivity system, with an iPod/MP3 compatible, six-speaker DAB radio, Bluetooth and, on higher spec models, music streaming. All versions are fitted with safety features such as stability control and hill start assist, six airbags, speed sensitive autolocking, split/fold rear seats, electric front windows and door mirrors.

The new pro. cee'd range also has a new 1.6 litre turbodiesel option with power up from 126 to 134bhp and a wider band of torque. Official fuel average for the manual gearbox version is 74.3mpg with a tax-busting 99g/km of CO2 emissions. This version also comes with the option of a seven-speed dual clutch automatic gearbox, with figures of 67.3mpg and 109g/km.

Other power options include a 1.4, 98bhp petrol engine in the eight-model pro. cee'd line-up.

Kia has won many friends with its reputation for providing the motoring public with honest cars at reasonable prices. The pro. cee'd range is an extension of that: cars offering sporty good looks with new, highly efficient engines offering performance without paying a heavy price in running costs.

The GT Line 1.0 turbo tested comes with an insurance rating of group 12 and all models come with Kia's seven-year, 100,000 mile warranty.

Peugeot's thrilling GTi badge returns

By Sharon Walters

Remember, remember the fifth of November... because the iconic Peugeot GTi badge is returning to the medium car segment for the first time since the 1990s, and all is set for a thrilling performance.

One of the most eagerly-anticipated new model launches of 2015, the 308 GTi by Peugeot Sport is a high-end performance 'hot hatch' designed with the sophisticated and enthusiastic driver in mind.

Launched as a high-performance model for the 308 range – itself winner of the prestigious 2014 European Car of the Year – the 308 GTi has been extensively developed by Peugeot Sport – the brand's in-house team of motor sport engineers that boasts a wealth of expertise and success in the performance road car and international competition fields. The 308 GTi is the fourth road car project in three years following the critically acclaimed RCZ R, 208 GTi 30th and 208 GTi by Peugeot Sport.

The letters GTi only ever feature on Peugeot products with the highest performance. It's a badge which has become shorthand for the hot hatch segment – a sector in which Peugeot has more than played its part. Products such as the 205 GTi and 309 GTi have acquired near-classic status in the decades since launch.

The 308 GTi continues in the same vein. Due to the dedication of the Peugeot Sport team, the GTi offers customers a striking new interpretation of the 308's sleek exterior design, enhanced sports-oriented interior detailing and an unparalleled driving experience with strong desirability and following.

Powered by the most-powerful engine of its size, the state-of-the-art 1.6-litre THP petrol engine with Stop&Start technology is available in two power outputs – 250hp and 270hp – with both providing impressive performance; limited to 155mph. Even the environmental credentials are class-leading, with CO2 emissions at 139g/km, while combined cycle fuel economy is 47.0mpg.

Sprint

With both models weighing in at just 1205kg this enables the 308 GTi 250 to sprint to 62mph in just 6.2 seconds, with a power-to-weight ratio of just 4.82kg/hp. The 308 GTi 270 sets a new segment record for power-to-weight – at just 4.46kg/hp – and reaches 62mph in a mere 6.0 seconds flat.

Key to the appeal of the 270 GTi is its Torsen® limited-slip differential, fitted as standard. Designed to improve cornering by channeling the torque to the wheel with the greatest traction, it also makes it possible to drive faster around corners and enhance grip and handling. The 270 GTi is also equipped with 2.3kg lighter 19" 'Carbone' lightweight alloy wheels shod with the latest Michelin Pilot Super Sport tyres. The design showcases the highly-capable 380mm ventilated front brake discs with four-piston Peugeot Sport signature calipers.

The 308 GTi has purposeful new styling, sitting 11mm lower to the ground than its siblings. Aggressive new front and rear design elements have been added, with six distinctive exterior colours available.

The interior has been carefully specified to complement the 308 GTi's exterior, subtly emphasising its sporting credentials. The door sill carries the Peugeot Sport and GTi signature, while the foot pedals, foot rest and gear knob are finished in aluminium. Red stitching features on the upholstery, door panels, gear lever and premium floor mats. The GTi 270 features Peugeot Sportrace-inspired seats, which provide enhanced lateral support.

The compact steering wheel – an integral part of the 308's acclaimed Peugeot i-Cockpit cabin design – provides natural grip and precise direction. It features full-grain leather with a GTi logo at the base and a red centring mark at the top.

The head-up display instrument panel read-outs has a chequered backdrop, and a GTi greets the driver on start-up. A 9.7" centrally mounted touch-screen forms a seamless part of the instrument panel, with its Redline theme adding a final touch of flair to the interior. Standard equipment on the 308 GTi includes a Driver Sport Pack, which allows owners to ramp up the high-octane feel. Pressing the Sport button on the centre console switches the display colour from white to red, and shows additional information on the central read-out. It also enhances engine noise growl and changes the accelerator pedal mapping.

Also standard is red 'Peugeot' lettering on the grille, sports side skirts, new twin exhaust system with black diffuser, GTi badging, full LED headlamps, front LED sequential indicators, reversing camera, front and rear parking sensors, Peugeot Open & Go, satellite navigation and DAB digital radio. The GTi 250 has 18-inch 'Diamond' alloy wheels while the GTi 270 the larger 19" 'Carbone' lightweight alloy wheels.

The 308 GTi 250 is priced at £26,555 on-the-road, while the 308 GTi 270 is priced at £28,155.

Park assist helps conquer driving fear for learners

In a year that marks the 80th anniversary of the UK driving test, the new Vauxhall Corsa is set to alleviate learner drivers' biggest test day dread, the parallel park, with a state-of-the-art reserve park assist function.

Following research conducted by car buying experts Zuto, data revealed the most feared manoeuvre on test day is a reverse parallel park. The exercise came out on top after beating reversing around a corner and hill starts as the most feared skill.

In partnership with RED Driving School, Vauxhall has created a short video, which features a RED Driving School instructor and pupil on their first lesson, with the pupil, despite struggling with the basics, mastering his parallel park – in fact doing so with more panache than expected!

You can see the video at: <https://youtu.be/boZUOTkQWSU>

Paul Adler, Vauxhall's fleet marketing manager said: "RED is a long-standing and loyal customer of Vauxhall with thousands of Corsas ordered from us over many years.

"The video we've made in partnership with RED is a fun way of highlighting the new Park Assist Function available on Corsa, one of the most popular cars with new and learner drivers."

lan McIntosh, chief executive of RED Driving School said: "While the parallel park can be one of the more challenging elements of the driving test, it's vital learners are confident with it – both in the test and when they take to the roads themselves.

"The video we've made with Vauxhall is designed to be humorous and look at something which is perceived as quite scary and difficult in a funny way, but there's a very real message there too – parallel parking is an important skill."

Vauxhall's Advanced Park Assist identifies suitable parking spaces and automatically parks the vehicle, without the driver touching the wheel. The ultrasonic sensor-based system measures parallel or perpendicular parking spots, calculates the vehicle's trajectory and automatically steers the Corsa into a space. The driver just controls acceleration, deceleration and gear shifting.

The sensors have a range of three metres to the left and right of the car, enabling them to detect objects or other vehicles in the driver's blind spot.

Whenever another vehicle comes within range of the sensors, a warning LED illuminates in the relevant exterior door mirror. The optional combined pack, comprising the up-level functionalities of Park Assist and Side Blind Spot Alert, is available for £495.

READING

Christopher

Dad

You held our hands when we were small, you caught us when we fell, you're the hero of our childhood, and our later years as well.

And every time we think of you, our hearts still fill with pride, though we'll always miss you Dad, we know you're by our side.

In laughter and in sorrow, in sunshine and through the rain, we know you're watching over us.

Until we meet again.

Love always, Sarah, Glenn,
Laura and the Children.

Please note: if you wish to send your response by recorded delivery or special delivery, please telephone the HS2 Ltd Community Relations Helpdesk on 0207 944 4908 to arrange this.

Anyone wishing to send comments should note that responses will be published on a publicly-accessible website in due course, but the names, addresses and signatures of individuals will not be published. As it is not possible for the substance of responses to be checked to ascertain whether they contain other personal data, you should not include information in your response that could identify you unless you are content for it to be made public.

If you do not want any of your response to be published you should clearly mark it as “Confidential” in the “subject” of the email or at the top of your letter. However please note the following two paragraphs.

If you want the information you provide to be treated as confidential, you should be aware that all information provided in response to this consultation, including personal information, may be subject to disclosure in accordance with access to information regimes (these are primarily the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Environmental Information Regulations 2004). Under the FOIA, there is a statutory Code of Practice with which public authorities must comply and which deals, amongst other things, with confidentiality obligations. In view of this it would be helpful if you could explain in your response why you regard the information you have provided as confidential. If a request for disclosure of the information you provide is received full account will be taken of your explanation, but no assurance can be given that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances. An automatic confidentiality disclaimer generated by your IT system will not, of itself, be regarded as binding on the Department for Transport or HS2 Ltd.

Please note that all responses received, whether marked Confidential or not, will be passed on in full to the Houses of Parliament and their appointed Assessor, who will analyse the responses and make a report to Parliament. That report will not contain your personal data.

Submitting comments to the Secretary of State does not affect the entitlement of persons to make objections to the proposed Amendments by depositing a petition in the House of Commons referred to below.

The Bill has been introduced in the House of Commons as a public Bill. In the House of Commons, by the terms of the Order made by that House, objection to the proposed Amendments may be made by depositing a Petition against them in the Private Bill Office of the House of Commons not later than the end of the period of four weeks beginning with the day on which the first newspaper notice of the Amendments is published. Any such Petition must therefore be deposited in the Private Bill Office of the House of Commons not later than 2pm on Friday 13 November 2015.

In the House of Lords, objection to the Bill may be made by depositing a Petition against it in the Office of the Clerk of the Parliaments, and the latest date for depositing such a petition against the Bill may be subject to an Order made by that House or, if no Order is made, will be the tenth day after that on which the Bill receives its First reading in that House. In the latter case, if this date is a Sunday, Christmas Day or Bank Holiday, or a day on which the House does not sit, the final date for depositing may be postponed.

Information about the deposit of such Petitions may be obtained from either the Private Bill Office, House of Commons or the Office of the Clerk of the Parliaments, House of Lords, or from the undermentioned Parliamentary Agents.

Rowe's loan stint looks set to go on WOLVES midfielder Tommy Rowe looks set to prolong his loan spell with League One side Scunthorpe United.

Rowe, who is out of favour at Molineux for the time being, has impressed during a three-game stint with The Iron, leading to calls from fans of the Lincolnshire club to make the deal a permanent one.
The 27-year-old, who moved to Wolves on a free transfer from Peterborough last summer, is out of contract in 2016.
His initial one-month deal with Scunthorpe expires at the end of October.
Wolves boss Kenny Jackett said: "Scunthorpe want to extend the loan period with Tommy Rowe which we will do, I'm sure."

Level pegging for most of the ladies

Cannock Ladies 1sts 1 Lichfield 1sts 1
CANNOCK couldn't exploit their chances until Nic Martin was on hand bundle home.
The home team had a second disallowed and Lichfield pulled one back just before half time.
Edgbaston 1sts 1 Cannock Ladies 2nds 1
Cannock started the match a bit flat and allowed Edgbaston to get into their half of the pitch and press hard.
Edgbaston's attack paid off with a goal in the 23rd minute.
About 10 minutes into the second half, Edgbaston started to push for their second goal.
Edgbaston won a penalty flick but Jo Carpay saved the attempt.Sarah Drayton-Chanaand her sister Rachel turned out to be the goal-scoring duo as Sarah scored in the 64th minute.

The player of the match vote went to Laura Swin-scoe thanks to her outstanding defensive performance.
Edgbaston 1 Cannock 1
Cannock Ladies 3rds 0 Bridgnorth 1sts1
Cannock came out in the second half fighting.In the last 10 minutes Cannock conceded to leave the score 1-0 to Bridgnorth.
Bloxwich Ladies 3rds 6 Cannock Ladies 4ths 0
Cannock played hard but couldn't stop from being 3-0 down at half time.

around more, we just couldn't get it in the back of the net, Despite the ladies hard work, Bloxwich went on to score a further three goals.
Cannock Ladies 5ths 1 Bloxwich Ladies 4ths 2
Cannock took the lead with a goal from Becky Chapman.
Bloxwich equalised before the end of the first half and took the lead in the second half. Cannock battled to find another goal.
Goalkeeper Alishba Rizva was voted Player of the Match by the opposition, while Rosie Coombs and Becky Chapman shared the votes from their team mates. Cannock 5ths travel away to Tettenhall 5ths in Wolverhampton this Saturday.

Our side deserved the victory, says Rowett

Blues 2 QPR 1
BIRMINGHAM manager Gary Rowett believed his side were deserved winners after a 2-1 victory at home to QPR left them fourth in the Championship.
His team lie below Reading and Middlesbrough only on goal difference after a win in which Paul Robinson and Paul Caddis found the target.
Rowett said: "We deserved to win and after going a goal down. After losing our previous two home games, that could have put a lot of pressure on the team."
"It is one of the first times we have gone behind and come back to win. We showed a different side to our game and Paul Robinson's equaliser gave us more belief in ourselves."

Rowett admitted: "It is so hard to control people's expectations. We are joint-second on merit. The win must give the players even more confidence."
Rowett certainly had every reason to be pleased with the performance of his veteran defender Robinson, who made only his fifth appearance of the season. It was the former Albion man who popped up to grab the vital equaliser to cancel out an earlier first-half goal by Matt Phillips.
It really was a milestone occasion for Robinson who scored his first league goal in 115 appearances for Birmingham. His only other goal was in a 3-0 win over Bristol Rovers in the FA Cup in January 2014.
Following two successive home defeats, Blues carved out their well-deserved victory with a 63rd-minute penalty from Caddis.

Canterbury 1 Cannock 3 AFTER narrow defeats to the National Hockey League's top three sides Cannock's challenge came from the other end of the league this week-end.

The Midlands side travelled to Canterbury in the hunt for points.
A professional performance saw Cannock control the vast majority of the match but Tom Pin-negar, in the Cannock goal, had to be at his best at times to deny some of Canterbury's counter attacks, which could easily have been turned into points.
A goal in each side of half time from Arjan Drayton-Chana put Cannock in the driving seat and meant Canterbury was facing and uphill struggle.
For the first, Chana burst onto an aerial ball from Captain Pete Jackson, to slot the ball past a stranded Canterbury keeper who could only watch the ball go in the net.
With Canterbury down to 10 men Cannock seized their opportunity to create an opening for Chana to score his second.

Sealed

The game was sealed when Louie Morris latched onto Harry Jawanda's pinpoint pass towards goal, which he tipped in with an out-stretched dive.
This goal was enough to secure all three points, despite Canterbury's consolation goal in the final minute from a short corner.
Cannock's Coach Mark Moss was pleased with the result and felt that the performance was getting closer to the style he was striving for.
Next Saturday night Cannock have a home fixture against last year's high fliers, East Grinstead, who although have recently played in Europe are struggling in the domestic league.
This promises to be an exciting occasion where Cannock have the opportunity to further cement their league position.
Whilst Cannock was battling for domestic honours two of the side, Rob Farrington and Robbie Gleeson were in Malaysia representing Great Britain in the Sultan of Johor Cup which they won, beating India in the final by sudden death penalty shuffles...

United pull out their best football

Cannock United put on a good display of football with their win over Stone Old Alleynians

Cannock United3 Stone Old Alleynians 1
CANNOCK United played some of their best football of the season to date as they beat Stone Old Alleynians, a team they lost to 14-4 over two fixtures last campaign.
Cannock started brightly, playing possession based football up the pitch, and had a number of half-chances at the Stone Old Alleynians goal, the breakthrough eventually coming through Ash Gunn on 14 minutes, who used his considerable pace to break through the Stone Old Alleynians back line and finish into the bottom right corner.

Cannock gained another goal just before the half hour mark, Ash Gunn capitalising on a Stone mistake and placing a beautifully weighted finish over the Stone keeper. The second half saw Stone Old Alleynians come back at Cannock but for some superb goalkeeping from Brad Ferguson preventing a Stone goal, but he could do nothing to prevent Latham from dodging several Cannock players to finish from close in.

Stone's frustration began to show as several yellow cards were awarded for dissent, as Stone continued to press for an equaliser.

Smith has started talks on new deal

DEAN SMITH hopes to extend his stay as Walsall boss after confirming talks have begun on a new deal.
The Saddlers supremo is the fourth longest serving manager in the country behind Arsene Wenger, Paul Tisdale and Karl Robinson.
Having guided Walsall to the top of League One, Smith attracted interest from Championship outfit Rotherham last week – an approach that was swiftly rejected by the board.And he has now confirmed talks to extend his stay at the Banks's have begun.
"We've had preliminary talks and they'll be ongoing," he said. "I'm happy here and enjoy it and hopefully we can sort something out soon."
Smith has always felt it would be a difficult task to guide the Saddlers into the Championship.

New coach is looking to bring edge to Albion

ALBION'S new first-team coach Ben Garner said he wants to help give the Baggies an attacking edge to add to their defensive solidity.

The 35-year-old, who joined at the end of last week, helped Crystal Palace establish themselves as a Premier League club, and now he wants to push Albion further up the league.

"With Tony you will always have a strong platform," said Garner. "The level of detail he puts into team is excellent, bar none. Here we want to build from that platform, develop the attacking side of the game and be a threat."

"If you're going to go to that next level you need to develop the players you've got but also build on it and add to it. You can't stand still in the Premier League."

A fractured ankle at 18 put paid to Garner's career and so he started doing his coaching badges.

Starting with the U11s and working his way through, he was made first team coach at Palace during their 2012/13 season.

He added: "I'd worked with Tony at Palace. I got on well with him — we have similar principles and values as people."

"I spoke to him quite early on after I left Palace and he was keen to bring me in. It was great to be back on the pitch."

Although Albion have started slowly this season, especially at home, Garner believes there is potential at The Hawthorns and one day he wants the top job somewhere.

"It's about improving and finding consistency," he said. "We need to keep getting better, small goals, getting points on the table."

WALSALL Elite Martial Arts have been enjoying the success from their students who attended the Midlands Championships in Worcester.

Sheward and Arms also travelled to the open Tae Kwon Do Scottish Championships in Edinburgh. Sheward repeated his success again in the men's red belt individual sparing division.

Emily Arms also enjoyed success winning two silvers in the ladies black belt heavyweight individual sparing and black belt tag team ladies. Aryan Singh missed out on silver in the boys black belt patterns.

Close game swings back and forth

Burntwood 24 Lichfield 2nd XV 29
THE first period belonged to Lichfield. They established a 22 point lead and could have scored more but a converted try by the hosts close to half time set up a very different second half.

Direct from the kick off Lichfield were in the home 22 assisted by a couple of penalty awards.

Excellent defence kept them out but another penalty award for a scrumage offence on the Burntwood 10 metre line led to the first score.

The visitors moved the ball quickly through the hands for a try in the clubhouse corner.

An infringement saw Lichfield take the penalty quickly and two passes later the right winger was away down the touchline for a 10 point lead.

Three minutes later and their big outside centre avoided two tackles to cross the line near the posts for a converted try.

Shortly afterwards the Lichfield pack drove over from five metres for a try close to half time.

A catch and drive attempt was held up but from the ensuing scrum Ian Jones fed brother Rob who touched down in the right corner. Owen Rookyard converted.

A strong run by Burntwood replacement Daryll Organ over halfway seemed to spread renewed belief in his side and they mounted a spell of pressure in the visitor's 22. It was finished off with a break by Rookyard who fed Jones for his second try in the right corner.

Burntwood pegged the deficit back to just three points on the hour mark.

They seized on a Lichfield error to link well in midfield with Rookyard and Matt Sishton prominent before skipper Ben Holt ran clean through for a try which he also converted.

The only other senior side in action were the 3rd XV who just lost out to St Leonard's away 17-10.

This Saturday Burntwood resume league action with a trip to Clee Hill.

Khalsa put in graft for historic game

MOST football clubs undertake a vigorous week of training ahead of the biggest FA Cup tie in their history.

Press duties and lavish massage sessions aside, players are left to work thoroughly with the coaching staff on how they will edge that one step closer to Wembley.

But not at Sporting Khalsa. The build-up to this weekend's historic cup clash with the mighty FC United of Manchester has involved physical work of a different kind — manual labour, to be precise.

You would struggle to imagine Wayne Rooney clearing the Old Trafford car park of clutter ahead of a vital quarter-final, or Jose Mourinho down on all fours shifting endless piles of rubble.

But for Khalsa FA Cup top scorer Craig Bannister, boss Ian Rowe and others, the graft is all part of the experience.

Media officer Mat Danks said: "We're preparing space for fan zones."

"There will be two big marquees there for the game — our normal facilities just wouldn't cope."

Affordable

"The food and drink will also be as affordable and accessible as possible."

"It has been all hands to the pump down with the owners, gaffer and star striker digging in."

The club from Aspray Arena — formerly known as Noose Lane — have been the toast of non-league football nationwide this season in their fairytale run to the fourth qualifying round.

They welcome fan-owned FC United for a place in the first round proper of the world's oldest domestic cup competition.

United, who were formed as a rebellion to the Glaziers' takeover at Manchester United, are known to travel to games in their thousands and Khalsa are busy preparing to face a crowd like no other they have before.

Rowe's men, now the lowest-ranked team left in the whole competition, have struggled with attendances over the months and have played in front of crowds of just 25 in the Midland Premier Division this season.

They are expecting anything up to 100x that when the Mancunian side head down the M6 on Saturday.

Khalsa have been creating club history ever since they progressed into the first qualifying

Sporting Khalsa assistant manager Peter Wood and co-owner Inder Grewal show off some of the work going on round and memorable days against AFC Wulfrunians, Basford United and Spalding United have seen them catch the attention of the media nationwide — with Final Score and Sky Sports paying trips to Noose Lane this week.

Ties against AFC Wulfrunians, Basford United and Spalding United have ensured Khalsa are well and truly on the map — but for tonight it back to the bread and butter as they visit Staffordshire side Brocton in the Premier Division. The remarkable feat, which now leaves them the lowest-ranked club remaining in this season's competition, was made all the more sweeter by an unexpected message of congratulations.

Former Gornal Athletic boss Rowe said: "I had a message from my missus saying 'well done. I bet you're buzzing' — and it's the first time in 20 years she's sent me a text about anything football-related."

"I had to show my staff so that they believed me."

Bromsgrove prove too tough for Hayes side

Heath Hayes 1 Bromsgrove Sporting 2

THIS was always going to be a tough game for a young Heath Hayes side playing against a Bromsgrove side that had won 14 of their 16 games this season.

Playing in front of an healthy crowd swelled by a good following of fans.

The early stages saw Hayes taking the game to Bromsgrove but it was Bromsgrove who took an early lead following a free kick which rebounded off the wall and was expertly put past Mark Wiggins into the far corner.

But on 29 minutes Hayes were level when they were awarded a free kick on the edge of the box which was dispatched past Bromsgrove keeper Jack Moreton by Joe Pickering giving him little chance of stopping the shot.

The second half saw Bromsgrove come more into the game with their fiscal presence being the key.

It came as no surprise when they took 65th min lead following a corner headed home brilliantly by Aaron Roberts.

From this point Hayes attacked the Bromsgrove goal in search an equaliser and they nearly got when Mark Scragg bought the best out of Moreton with a rising drive towards the top corner.

Special mention should be made for Home keeper Mark Wiggins who contributed with four top draw saves which kept Hayes' record of conceding the least goals against in the league

Next Saturday sees Hayes in another tough away game against league high fliers Hinckley.

Blox have to fight to keep streak going

Bloxwich Mens 1sts

Bloxwich 4 Solihull Blossomfield 3
BLOXWICH were keen to keep their undefeated run going against Solihull.

The match could not have got off to a better start with Bloxwich taking an early lead through an excellently taken Gary Williams goal.

Phil Ashcroft then scored two well-rehearsed short corners to give Bloxwich a comfortable 3-0 lead.

Solihull managed to get one back right at the death of the first half and this gave them the momentum going into the second half.

They capitalised on this and scored two more goals level the score.

With some great work on another short corner, Bloxwich won a penalty flick which Phil Ashcroft coolly put away for his hat-trick which gave Bloxwich the lead.

Whitby win ends Pics' goal drought

Rushall 3 Whitby Town 1
RUSHALL Olympic ended their three match-goal drought with victory over 10-man Whitby Town.

Rushall started the game the brighter side and a couple of Kris Taylor corners spelled danger for Whitby early on.

The hosts' good start paid off when new signing Massiah McDonald picked up a ball at the back post and fired in past Shane Bland in the 21st minute.

Ten minutes later and it was 2-0, Carl Palmer playing a neat one-two and slotting in past Bland from 15 yards.

It got even better for Rushall when Kyle Edmunds burst into the box to tee up McDonald for his second and Rushall's third after 37 minutes.

Whitby managed to pull a goal back before half-time when Lee Mason nicked in ahead of Dan Wilkinson to finish into the corner.

Dean Coleman touched a Mason effort over the bar and Liam Shepherd curled a shot just wide after half-time as the visitors tried to hit back.

Jack Duggan was denied by a fantastic double save, first from Bland and then from Richard Pell on the line.

David McTiernan was dismissed for the away side late on and substitute Alex Reid was denied in stoppage time by Bland.

Rushall Olympic: Coleman, Christophorou, Wilkinson (Caines 46), Taylor, Duggan, Townsend, Heath, Palmer, Wright (Brown 72), McDonald, Edmunds (Reid 79).

Subs not used: Fitzpatrick, Dudley, Whitby Town: Bland, Weledji, Robinson, Bullock, Pell, McTiernan, Shepherd (McCarthy 68), Giell (Gardner 72), Roberts, Brobbel, Mason.

Subs not used: Martin, Keogh, Park.

Lockmen couldn't handle lightning pace of Rangers

Willenhall 2 Smethwick Rangers 6
WILLENHALL had no answer to Smethwick Rangers' lightning pace as they slipped to a 6-2 home defeat in the West Midlands Premier.

The visitors opened the scoring on 10 minutes after a swift break down the left and a cut-back for Collin Smith to rattle home at the near post.

Rangers stretched their lead when Rohan Gill crossed for Nathan Stone to net, and the same player scored from 25 yards to make it 3-0 at half-time.

The Lockmen conceded a fourth goal on 51 minutes to Jordan Gaddu's fierce strike from outside the box to make it 4-0.

Eddie Wilson pulled a goal back before on 79 minutes sub Ryan Ward saw his shot from the tightest of angles somehow deflect into the back of the net to make it 4-2.

But Smethwick's Smith chested home his second goal on 89 minutes.

Then as the game was deep into injury-time Rangers sub Neehemia Zazi finished superbly again from outside the box to put the final nail in the Lockmen's coffin.

Wynter comes early for Chasetown

Chasetown goalscorer Ryan Wynter on the ball

Carlton Town 2 Chasetown 3

CHASETOWN made a dream start to their Evo-Stik Division One South clash against Carlton.

After four minutes, Joe Halsall and Stan Mugisha combined to square the ball to Ryan Wynter who side-footed the ball into the net from close range.

Five minutes later The Scholars doubled their advantage after a calamitous mix-up between Carlton defender Kieran Walker and keeper Jack Steggles gifted Mugisha an open goal.

The hosts almost shocked their way back into the game with a speculative effort from Jake

Football

Wholey which rattled John Bateman's post. Carlton eventually broke through in the 75th minute. Wholey slid the ball into the path of Daniel Gordon who fired across Bateman.

Chase substitute Nick Turton turned sharply to fire beyond Steggles to restore Chasetown's two-goal advantage.

The Millers reduced the arrears again when Gordon's free-kick was flicked home by sub Romaine Graham, but The Scholars held on.

PITMEN ENJOY A LATE FLURRY

Chorley 2 Hednesford 2
HEDNESFORD Town were able to earn a point from their trip to Chorley in a game that burst into life late on.

After an even opening, 10 minutes into the game Chorley had the first half-chance when Josh Hine found James Dean but the striker fired over the bar.

In the 25th minute Pitmen midfielder Tom Thorley beat two men but his low shot lacked any real power and was claimed by the home goalkeeper Sam Ashton.

Three minutes later a whipped ball into the Hednesford box picked out Dean but he whistled his header over the bar.

The home side then created two good chances as first Harry Winter fired just wide of the upright before Darren Stephenson was denied by a good save from Hednesford shot stopper Lloyd Ransome in the 39th minute.

The last effort on target before the half-time whistle came from the away side when defender Matt Regan strode forward, only to see his well-struck effort saved by Ashton.

Efforts

Much like the first period, the start to the second half was a quiet one and although Hednesford had plenty of the ball, they only had one effort from Ben Bailey, which went well over the bar, to show for their efforts.

The Pitmen finally took the lead in the 63rd minute.

As the ball broke in the box for Andy Todd, he managed to pick out Adam Thomas who headed home despite the best efforts of the Chorley goalkeeper Ashton.

The home side drew level after 78 minutes.

As a ball was pumped into the box, Ransome claimed it before he appeared to be fouled, however with no whistle forthcoming and the goalkeeper having lost the ball, Marcus Carver was left with an unguarded net to fire home.

Disaster then struck for Town three minutes later as a Stephenson cross into the box found an unmarked Hine, who headed home.

Kennedy Digie finished the scoring for the day.

Kenny wants to get his Ojo working

BOSS Kenny Jackett reckons teenage wing wizard Sheyi Ojo has the potential to fill the void left by Bakary Sako at Wolves.

The head coach has been encouraged by the progress the 18-year-old Liverpool wide man has made since arriving at Molineux on a season-long loan in the summer.

And he reckons Ojo, a naturally wide left player, has the ability to be a regular in the position once occupied by Sako, who left Wolves in the summer on a free transfer.

"That is his aim," said Jackett. "If he does that it means he will be doing well."

"I would be happy with that. It has to be his aim but he will be pleased with what he has done so far and happy with the game time he has got and the effect he has had."

Sako, who joined Wolves in 2012, scored 36 goals in 118 league games before moving to the Premier League with Crystal Palace when his contract expired.

Ojo has been limited to just three starts since his arrival.

Kenny puts faith in his young guns

WOLVES boss Kenny Jackett has backed his young players to bounce back from defeat as they look to get their promotion campaign on track.

Inconsistency has blighted Wolves' season so far, typified by successive 3-0 victories being followed by a 4-2 defeat at Derby on Sunday.

Jackett said the players had the character and determination to be back firing on all cylinders.

He had a debrief with the squad this week to pore over the Derby loss – and revealed he always welcomes feedback from his players.

"There's good character in the group and good determination there, definitely," Jackett said. "And maintaining confidence and being determined to put things right, wanting to get over defeats, learn from them and put them right in the upcoming games, is a big feature that we have."

"They're disappointed they lost the game but there's some realism as well going forward."

"I always ask and speak to players and ask their opinion and see where they're coming from."

"That gives you a good idea of what they're going to do in the future. Is it an honest assessment or unrealistic?"

"If it's honest and realistic, then they always have a chance of improving in the future."

Midfielder David Edwards was due to have a fitness test this week on the groin injury that saw him miss Sunday's game.

Jackett continues to scour the loan market for potential signings, particularly a striker, but it remains a fruitless search.

Townsend heads Khalsa into fourth

Spalding 1 Sporting Khalsa 2
SIMEON Townsend's header on 80 minutes to put Khalsa into the fourth qualifying round of the FA cup.

Townsend's flick from Tim Jackson's free kick was the decider in a fiercely fought replay.

Spalding took the lead on 13 minutes, Mitch Griffiths capitalising on hesitation in the Khalsa ranks to lob James Pemberton.

But the game turned on its head when Ross Watson was dismissed on 30 minutes for hacking down Marvin Nisbett.

Nisbett equalised for Khalsa.
